JUDGMENTS

In these lists of Judgments the names alphabetically arranged and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (*) means not summoned. (†) signifies that the first name is fictitious, real names being unknown. Judgments entered during the week and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.

The Judgments filed against corporations, etc., will be found at the end of the list.

The Private Branch Exchange System of supplying TELEPHONE SERVICE is particularly adapted to the requirements of LARGE HOTELS and APARTMENT HOUSES
By means of a Private Branch Exchange the general telephone service, local, suburban and long distance, is available in every room and apartment. A complete interior service is also supplied, adding largely to the efficiency, and decreasing the cost of the hotel service proper.
No modern Hotel or Apartment House should lack a

PRIVATE BRANCH TELEPHONE EXCHANGE

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

DYCKERHOFF PORTLAND CEMENT

is made in Germany. When first introduced in the United States, some twenty-five years ago, its superior strength, correct chemical composition and absolute uniformity were quickly appreciated and placed it above all other Cements in the market. The Dyckerhoff brand maintains the original superiority;—its perfection has not been approached by any other Cement.

JUDGMENTS

In these lists of Judgments the names alphabetically arranged and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (*) means not summoned. (†) signifies that the first name is fictitious, real names being unknown. Judgments entered during the week and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.

The Judgments filed against corporations, etc., will be found at the end of the list.

An architect's reputation will never be greater than his best work, though it is often less. The goodness of his work depends upon the quality of the material he uses. "Taylor Old Style" roofing tin makes a good standard even for a good architect.

N. & G. TAYLOR COMPANY
ESTABLISHED 1810
Philadelphia

We do not use Bessemer Steel in the manufacture of any of our Brands of Tin Plate, n t even our common brands. The Black Plate used in the "Taylor Old Style" Brand is a special quality to insure absolute durability and has a soft, absorbent surface for that purpose.

Vol. LXXIV. October 22, 1904. No. 1910.

THE encouraging aspect of the stock market during the past week from the bull point of view is the fact that, considering the heavy liquidation, prices did not suffer more than they did. The buying aided by some manipulation at critical moments was sufficient to keep prices fairly steady and that under the circumstances was a very considerable achievement. It remains to be seen whether the buying will continue to be as good as the selling, or whether a period of less activity and slightly sagging prices will supervene before any further advance takes place. There can be no doubt it will in the long run be better for the cause of higher prices, in case quotations are not pushed much higher at the present time. Mr. Vanderslip was assuredly right in stating that the bullish speculative manipulation had gone as far as is wholesome, and that the continuation of the movement unchecked for the next few months would constitute a serious menace to the continued prosperity of the country. The menace is a serious one, because under existing conditions it seems entirely possible for the bullish manipulators to send prices higher; and if they are to be checked the check must come from the concerted action of powerful and conservative banks. It is the banks, which have permitted the speculation of the last few months; and it is they and the few men who control them, who can prevent it from going farther than it should.

THE re-organization and the improvement of the Building Department planned by Superintendent Hopper has been accepted both by the Board of Aldermen and the Board of Estimate and it remains only to appropriate the necessary money. This reorganization is approved by everyone who is acquainted with the necessities of the Department, and with the enormous responsibility which is placed upon its shoulders. In the past it could not be held strictly accountable, because its force was not adequate to the work, which fell upon it; but whenever the organization is completed, there will be no excuse possible in case the building law is violated and a building collapses. As to the increase in the salaries of the inspectors that was justified both by the salaries paid by other cities for a similar class of work and by the character of the work which the inspectors are required to perform. Hereafter their work is to be carefully supervised; and the responsibility for any negligence will be shared with the inspector by the supervising official and by the whole departmental organization.

LAST week in commenting on the abuses which characterize the distribution of city advertising, we compared the method whereby many "official notices" were assigned for publication to that of a dressmaker who advertised in the "Iron Age." Lest our readers should consider this an exaggeration, we will quote from the official report of one meeting of the Board of City Record (June 28, 1904), a few of these cases, which make the city advertising business a wildly extravagant farce-comedy, and one whose cost is commensurate with its extravagance. The city, for instance, wishes to advertise a bond sale. It pays 40 cents a line to the Police Chronicle, the Broadway Weekly, and the Volks-Advocat, for publishing the fact to the numerous readers they possess among the investing class. Then the city proposes to have a public auction of canvass hose and of seven horses; and the Board of City Record announces the fact in that popular sporting paper, the New York Realty Journal. This looks queer; but the Board knows very well that the Realty Journal is just as good a medium for the sale of horses as it is for any other city purpose. Again the Board wishes to secure many competitive bids for the erection of a station-house in Brooklyn; and knowing the wide circulation of the Police Chronicle in the building trades, it spends good taxpayer's money in advertising its necessity in that publication. You advertise for bids on a house for policemen in a policeman's paper on the same principle that he who drives fat oxen should himself be fat. But the farce-comedy becomes almost too extravagant for laughter when such very important matters as the sale of ferry franchises for ferries between East 134th and 135th Sts. are announced to the public in the Harlem Local Reporter, while bids for constructing five steel ferry-boats are demanded from the readers of the same excellent but extremely local journal. No, this sort of thing will not do. Of course, we all know that all the advertising went by favor and without a thought of obtaining any results. But if that is the case why advertise at all? The Board of Estimate made a great parade of economy in refusing money to celebrate an important public event such as the opening of the Subway; but the Board of City Record throws away many times that sum in useless advertising without the smallest apparent scruple.

The Boom in Vacant Lots.

THE way in which the Manhattan real estate market swings from one extreme to another is extraordinary. During 1901 and 1902 the centres of speculative and building activity were the financial district, that between 14th and 59th st, along the lines of Broadway and 5th ave, and in the residence section on the East Side. But coincident with the liveliest activity and rapidly advancing prices in these sections, those neighborhoods of Manhattan devoted to a cheaper class of residence and tenement remained comparatively lifeless. When this speculative movement subsided during the spring of 1903, it was succeeded by a speculation in Harlem and upper East Side tenements, which lasted through the fall of 1903, and culminated during the winter and spring of 1904. This movement did not, however, produce much building, because conditions were at that time unfavorable for building operations; but the shifting and increase of population which justified the speculation brought about a scarcity of house room, which was bound eventually to produce a great increase of residential accommodation. During the past summer tenements and flats have been built in larger numbers than before, both in Manhattan and the Bronx, and it became evident that as soon as sufficient money supplies were readily forthcoming there would be a tremendous demand for vacant property available for improvement, which means vacant property along the line of the Subway. That demand has now begun. It covers an enormous stretch of territory, including the whole of Washington Heights, of the Dyckman tract, and of large areas in the Bronx, beyond the existing line of habitation. In much of this territory the trading is assuming the proportion of a boom. The operators are rushing in and buying right and left; and they are using the newspapers to create an impression of more activity than really exists. It is, of course, wholly a professional movement; but so are all movements in Manhattan real estate. In this as in other instances, the professionals know what they are about. They are preparing for the prospect that the year 1905 will be one of the most active years in the building of tenements and flats, which New York has ever seen.

The trading in vacant lots has been phenomenal. Several thousand lots have changed hands this week. For the most part the purchasers have been building loan operators. The Central Realty Bond and Trust Co. has been acquiring large holdings, both in the Dyckman tract, in the Bronx and on the Heights, and its example has been followed by many private firms. In the Dyckman tract none but building loan operators have as yet done any buying; but on Washington Heights an larger number of builders are figuring in the transactions. There the building movement has actually commenced; and there the larger proportion of the activity will take place during the coming year. The precise extent of the activity may be judged from the following figures: In the Bronx some 2040 lots have been sold, and this figure omits several resales. On the Heights and on the Dyckman tract 461 lots have been purchased, while the figures for the upper end of Harlem are 206.

Opinions differ as to the availability of the Dyckman tract for early improvement. It is certainly in a very backward stage of development at the present time. Comparatively few streets have been opened up. Schoolhouses have not been built. It is lacking just at present in the opportunity for most of the conveniences of city life. But the operators who have done the buying are not discouraged by these facts. They know that the streets can be quickly opened up, and the tract made available for improvement in a comparatively short time; and they see large profits in operating in the district because of the cheapness of property. When it is remembered that lots on the side streets in the Dyckman tract can still be purchased for about $2,000 against a minimum of $13,000 for lots on side streets in Harlem, and that consequently the land necessary to build a 50-foot tenement can be purchased in the new district for one-tenth of the price, which it would cost in the old district, it will be seen that the present movement has good economic reasons behind it. The truth is that the Dyckman tract is the cheapest land in New York which the Subway has made available for early improvement, and that fact explains the whole movement. When the tract is built up, however, it is likely to be more a part of the Bronx than of Manhattan. It has a valuable water front on the Ship Canal, which will be useful for lumber yards and similar purposes. These business enterprises will necessitate many tenement houses in their immediate vicinity; and the eastern part of the tract will be covered chiefly with such buildings. On the other hand the higher land towards the river may well become a district in which private residences and two-family houses will prevail. It is well to keep in mind, however, that the Dyckman tract, although geographically a part of Manhattan, will be economically a part of the Bronx, and will be the area which will furnish the western part of the Bronx with much of its supplies.

As we have said, however, it is on Washington Heights that the building movement will first make considerable headway. In that district street improvements are already far advanced. The Board of Education has begun to build schools, and large blocks of property are controlled by a syndicate of operators, with Mr. Chas. T. Barney at its head, which will help builders to finance building operations. This syndicate acquired most of its holdings in the spring of 1902, in anticipation of the demand which is now beginning. At that time it was able to acquire many million dollars worth of vacant land, at cheap prices, because the unprofitable "booms" in real estate on the Heights had left a good deal of property in the hands of owners who were thoroughly tired of paying the cost of carrying it. At the time it bought the syndicate expected to begin to sell off to builders at least as easy as last spring; but general conditions were not propitious at that time, and the matter went over until this fall. During the past week, however, it has sold vacant lots valued at about $1,250,000 to builders, who will improve at an early date. The significance of this fact is very considerable. It means that builders are willing to pay the prices at which the syndicate can afford to place the property on the market; and these prices must represent a considerable advance over those at which the property was purchased in 1902. Other sales will follow very soon; and we have no doubt that the records of the best years of the West Side "boom" will be broken on Washington Heights in 1905 and 1906.

POLICE COMMISSIONER McADOO has drawn up a complicated set of rules for the purpose of regulating vehicular traffic at the intersection of Broadway and Sixth ave. The purpose of the regulation is to make vehicles go around the Square, instead of across it; and the regulations, as soon as drivers become accustomed to them should do something to relieve the present congestion. It is obvious, however, that no regulation of traffic at Greeley Square will in the end prevent a wholly intolerable congestion at that point. If the congestion is such as to cause considerable trouble at the present time, it may be imagined how much worse it is destined to become when the Pennsylvania station is finished, and when the traffic is increased by the vehicles which the business of that great terminal will require. The neighborhood of Greeley Square, old as it is, is still only in the beginning of its development. Both on the Square itself and on all the neighboring streets and avenues there are many important sites still to be improved, and a proportionate increase of business and traffic still to be expected. There is every reason to believe that the Square will become the centre of more of the activities of New York life than any other single spot in Manhattan; and there is also every reason to believe that it cannot possibly carry the burden of this concentrated traffic without some radical redisposition of its lines. As at present planned it is really not a square at all. It is merely the intersection of two avenues and one street, and it is as ugly as it is inconvenient. The fact that an elevated road runs on one of the avenues intensifies, of course, both the ugliness and the inconvenience, and any rearrangement which would make the Square more convenient would doubtless make it less ugly. The difficulties of suggesting any rearrangement which would be both satisfactory and practicable are enormous, and must be left to the City Improvement Commission. But pending the dealing with these difficulties in a thorough going way, nothing should be done by the Rapid Transit Commission in the way of Subway plans, which will prevent the use of the sub-surface under the Square for the relief of the existing surface traffic.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

To call attention to under-valuation of real property is excellent work; still, in fairness to the Tax Department it must be borne in mind that the published valuations show the assessments as made by the deputy one year ago, and that valuations in many districts of Manhattan have increased considerably since then. It is impossible for an assessor to anticipate speculative values where fluctuations are as sudden as in Section 8; or values so dependent on individual caprice as in the Fifth avenue district.

There is another factor to be considered in the question of tenement house valuations on the East Side. It is well known that much of the recent dealings in such property has been purchased by individuals who invest their savings in only a small equity in one tenement, where they live and do their own janitor work and collecting. They can and do pay a higher purchase price than could an outside investor, buying on a strictly commercial basis; in some instances paying ten per cent more than a commercial investor could give if he expected a current rate of interest on his money. I have been over all the printed lists in considerable detail and have been gratified to find that in many sections of Manhattan the assessors have come, on the whole, remarkably close to the normal selling price of the property. Most of the Manhattan sections seem to average 90 to 95 per cent., although there is one which does not seem to be over 75 per cent. Yours truly,

A. C. PLEYDELL.

In the paragraph published last week pointing out certain discrepancies between the prices at which particular parcels of real estate value were sold and the values at which they were assessed, the Record and Guide was simply calling attention to facts, and was not attempting to impute any blame. It is undoubtedly true that the prices of Manhattan real estate vary enormously within a comparatively short time, and that an entirely fair valuation made in one year may be an absurd underestimate for the next. In the case, for instance, of the properties on 33d and 34th sts., to which were referred, the purchaser unquestionably paid extremely high prices, and an appraiser could not accept them as a fair indication of values in the neighborhood until they were confirmed by subsequent transactions. But mortgages are a matter of public record, and rarely represent as much as 85 per cent. of the selling value of the property, unless the money-lender is a palpable victim, so that when we find a parcel of property mortgaged for $35,000 and assessed at $27,000, it is plain that the discrepancy between the figures cannot be dismissed with remarks about sudden fluctuations in the value of New York real estate. But the Record and Guide publishes facts of this kind for no other purpose than that they may be corrected. We believe it to be physically impossible for the deputy assessors to do their work with the scrupulous accuracy that the work demands. Like our correspondent we have been gratified and surprised to find that cases such as those which were printed last week rarely occur; but when they do occur they should not be passed over in silence. The Record and Guide is giving all the publicity it can to the assessed valuations, because it is only by such publicity that the assessment list can be kept correct, and the basis of our system of local taxation equitable.

Structure of Cities.

MR. RICHARD M. HURD'S ADDRESS TO THE REAL ESTATE CLASS AT THE Y. M. C. A.

The real estate class held its second meeting on Tuesday night at the West Side Branch of the Y. M. C. A. There were close on to two hundred members present when the teacher, Mr. Henry Harmon Neill, spoke of the work done thus far and invited suggestions for the future. It was decided that a member having any question to ask or point to discuss should put it on file and it would be disposed off at the next meeting. Mr. Richard M. Hurd, president of the Lawyers' Mortgage Company and author of numerous books on real estate matters, delivered an address on the "Structure of Cities." He said in part:

"I propose to say a few words to-night on the structure of cities, by which is meant the organic evolution of cities; or, in other words, the general principles which control their origin, their life and their growth. A city's organic system might be likened to that of the human body, the principal streets representing the arteries, the parks acting as the lungs, the railroad depots and docks the mouth, the telephone and telegraph the nervous system, and the trips to and from the business centers the heart beats and pulses. The definition of an organization is a body composed of essential mutually dependent parts, all partaking of a common life, and it is in this feature, it seem to me, that a city most closely resembles the organs. It is strictly true that every part of a city influences every other part. No building could be erected in any part of New York without having some influence on every other building. The city changes daily in its life as it grows and moves in one direction and another, and the value of every lot in New York changes each day. Whether we take a city as a whole section within a city or the life or value of any particular lot, the exhibit is the same, namely of a small beginning and gradual growth, increased strength and importance with a final maximum of power and a gradual disappearance. This does not mean that New York will cease to exist, but that the time element is an important and vital one in figuring the value of any piece of real estate or in determining the character of any section.

"Taking up the forces which create cities, and starting with what we call civilization, the factor of defense first drew men together for mutual protection. As, for instance, New York was first settled around a fort at the southerly end of Manhattan Island. Among other important factors which tend to create cities are commerce and manufacture. The final factor may be generally classed under the head of social advantages which cities offer in varying degrees in the way of education, or in literature, science, art and all the opportunities and refinements of life. These forces are increasingly strong as a rule, according to the size of the city. The importance of noting the forces which move population is due to the fact that they operate very much the same within the city limits or boundaries as they do outside the city. As, for example, topography strongly affects trade routes along which population moves and the building within a city. Similarly, water surfaces outside a city, if navigable, attract population, while if not navigable they retard. The law of continuity within a city is the same as without, and every city is a link within the general chain of population movement and a link in the chain of development within a city.

"Manufacturing has the same monopolizing influence within the city boundary as it has outside of it. Railroads, which create new trade routes outside of cities, have their counterpart in the street and elevated railroads. All growth necessarily consists of moving away from the point of origin and normally takes place in all directions except as topography hinders. The forces which attract or repel growth in the early life of a city consist of external influences—in other words, trade coming into the town from some other town or country either by water or by land and internal influences or some early located building of importance, and finally the ever-present question of topography. In a water front city the first line of growth is along where the line of docks is built because the edge of the water is very apt to furnish a good road. New York grew in a northeasterly direction east of the present lower Pearl street, chiefly because the East River was freer of ice than the Hudson, and therefore more navigable. Inland towns start generally at the intersection of turnpikes, and their growth depends largely on external influences. They generally grow in the direction of other adjacent towns or a good farming district. Railroad towns usually follow along the same line, and their first streets are generally laid out parallel to the railroad.

"The volume of work of a city is laid down by the lines of transportation, which in early days were the turnpikes. Next comes the railroads and the water front. For example, Broadway is not only the principal business street of New York, but it is also the Albany turnpike, and runs a thousand miles into Montreal. And while the value of Broadway property is not increased by this fact, we should look back to the very old times and see what happened then.

"The most powerful central influence in a city is, in larger towns, the principal exchange. This would be plainly illustrated if our Stock Exchange should move up to Fourteenth street. There would be a great scramble to follow on the part of the concerns doing business in the financial district, and the land for which thousands of millions of dollars had been paid, would greatly depreciate in value, but this is very unlikely to happen for the financial district is the slowest moving section in a city.

"There are three main uses for city land: All city land, of course, consists of area suitable to be improved by buildings. These buildings may be of three classes; namely, those used for business, residence and public or semi-public purposes. The business land may be sub-divided into manufacturing or office districts. The retail stores always cluster together, as for example, on Sixth avenue. This is chiefly for the convenience of their customers and not because they do business with each other. As to residence land, the basis of value is laid on social and not economical lines. For example, the highest prices are paid for houses in the Fifth avenue district, not because these houses have any particular value, but simply because the rich people like them and they make them their homes by living there. The value of resident land depends entirely upon the social standing of the people who live on it. They want to live there, rich people live there and for that reason they are willing to pay high for it.

"There are certain definite lines that people follow in daily life and which affect very strongly the structure of a city. The daily trips of men and women to business and the shopping district cause increased traffic, and is certain to change the character of the streets through which they pass and will ultimately mean the claiming of them for business purposes. This daily traffic varies in its effect upon property according to the social standing or wealth of the people passing, whether they are on foot or in carriages and the object which takes them past.

"Street railroads are a comparatively new development, and in many cities have greatly altered the construction, in that they so much more quickly remove people from business. They increase the value of the business district and also points which they reach. They increase the area of supply for cheaper residence and possibly stores, and bring new land into competition. To sum up, the two great causes for changes in city construction are the increase in population and new lines of transportation; these being accompanied by constant readjustment within the city area as one form of business or another prospers."

At the close of the lecture, Mr. Minturn Post Collins asked which, in the opinion of those present, would be the principal business street of the Dyckman tract, which at present is enjoying remarkable activity. Mr. Walter Stabler and others discussed the matter and the general consensus of opinion was that Tenth avenue would probably be the business channel. On next Tuesday evening, Mr. Francis E. Ward, president of the Real Estate Board of Brokers, will address the class on "The Business of the Broker."

Building Department Subjects.

INSPECTION OF ELEVATORS.

In view of recent accidents to elevators, the pending legislation providing not only for the inspection of passenger elevators quarterly, but also that the Superintendent of Buildings shall make regulations for the installation, inspection, alteration and operation of all elevators, is timely, sagacious and humane. It is better to be certain that no elevator in New York will ever fall again than to merely hope that the gearing of one will never get out of order, that no operator will ever lose control, and that no safety clutch will never fail to clutch at the critical instant. Superintendent Hopper in his commendable plans for the reorganization of the Building Department, contemplates a more careful and competent oversight of the lifting apparatus in buildings, and has caused the introduction of an ordinance to amend section 101 of the building code.

As the section now stands, it meets the requirements of the hour inadequately and very indefinitely. It provides for scarcely more than a mere inspection of passenger elevators, omitting to specify freight elevators, while the new ordinance would give the superintendent power to make regulations regarding the installation of elevators, to ensure that they are strong and safe, and also to regulate their operation. In a word, the new ordinance would give the Building Department full authority in all those particulars which practice demonstrates should be watched over and corrected by expert representatives of the municipality.

In order to make the authority of the Building Department fully respected, it is intended that violators of these or any other provisions of the building code shall be punished, and that the officers of the department shall have power to order the arrest of offenders, which would be no more power than is conceded to the Department of Health. Superintendent Hopper is firm in advocacy of these matters. The new ordinance is as follows:

Section 101 of the Building Code is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section 101: Inspection, installation, alteration and operation of elevators.

The Superintendent of Buildings shall cause an inspection of elevators carrying passengers or employees to be made at least once every three months, and shall make regulations for the inspection, installation, alteration and operation of such elevators, and shall also make regulations for the installation, alteration and operation of freight elevators with a view to safety. And shall also prescribe suitable qualifications for persons who are placed in charge of the running of passenger or freight elevators. The regulations shall require any repairs found necessary to any such passenger or employees' elevators to be made without delay by the owner or lessee. In case defects are found to exist which endanger life or limb by the continued use of such elevator, then, upon notice from the Superintendent of Buildings, the use of such elevator shall cease, and it shall not again be used until a certificate shall be first obtained from said Superintendent that such elevator has been made safe. No person shall employ or permit any person to be in charge of running any passenger or freight elevator who does not possess the qualification prescribed therefor. No person shall run any passenger or freight elevator in the City of New York unless he shall first register at the office of the Superintendent of Buildings his name and residence and also the location of the building in which he is running said passenger or freight elevator, and shall first receive from the Superintendent of Buildings, a certificate as to his competency. Every freight elevator or lift shall have a notice posted conspicuously thereon as follows: "Persons riding on this elevator do so at their own risk." Any owner, agent, architect, builder, contractor, sub-contractor, foreman or any other person who shall knowingly violate any of the provisions of the building code, laws, ordinances or regulations, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, punishable by fine, or imprisonment or both.

A NEW WAY TO FILE PLANS.

Architects and builders are interested in what has been called "a recent ruling" of the Building Department that excavating on the site of a new building cannot begin until the plans have been filed and approved. In reality, it is but the enforcement of the established law in the matter, necessary for the good of all, and is not by any means a new interpretation from the department. Why in times past builders have presumed to override the law, to put structures well under way before obtaining official approval for the plans, is neither here nor there. The legal requirement is that "before the erection, construction or alteration of any building or part of any building, structure or part of any structure, or wall, or any platform, staging, or flooring to be used for standing or seating purposes," and before the construction or alteration of the plumbing or drainage is commenced, somebody shall submit a detailed statement of the specifications, a full and complete copy of the plans and such detail drawings of the proposed work as the Commissioner of Buildings shall require. And the work shall not be commenced until these plans have been approved.

It need not be said that in practice it has been found inconvenient at times to live up to the letter of the law, and, on the other hand, that certain evils have arisen from violating it. But a way out of the difficulty is contained in the law itself, which in another paragraph says that nothing shall prevent a commissioner of buildings from granting his approval for the erection of any part of a building when plans and statements have been presented for the same before entire plans and detailed statements have been submitted.

In the past few weeks architects and builders have in a number of instances resorted to the alternative contained in this latter provision, and have filed plans for "a part" of their intended building, obtained official approval therefor and a certificate of filing addressed to the Superintendent of Highways, to whom they must next apply for permission to cross the sidewalk. By first filing plans for the foundations and basement, they have been able to get their work started sooner than they otherwise would. This is the explanation of some of the plans for "one story brick and stone shops" and "one story stone and brick loft buildings," permits for about twenty of which have been granted in the course of a few weeks, eight of them last week. This is true of the plans for the "one story brick and stone work shop" to be erected on the southeast corner of Riverside Drive and 93d st, which is an extremely choice location for a "workshop" to cost only $1,500. In reality, the site will be occupied by a high-class nine-story apartment house, and there will be two six-story ones adjoining. Plans were filed this week for "a one-story and cellar stone shop," at 337 and 339 East 34th st, that will evolve in due time into a tenement. It would be an exaggeration to say that filings of this nature form "an epidemic," but the movement has been considerable enough to attract attention. The reason given by the architects is that to wait until complete plans for an apartment house have been prepared and passed through the formalities of both the Tenement House and Buildings Departments means a great loss of time, which can be saved by submitting plans for "part" of the building first and getting permission to start the excavating.

Without permission to cross the sidewalk sites cannot be cleared of old buildings, and without a certificate from the Building Board the Superintendent of Highways will not consent. It is therefore exceedingly convenient for the builders to turn in these preliminary plans and be permitted to start work in a very few days thereafter, rather than wait several weeks for complete plans. However, there may arise objections to this procedure, especially if some confusion should result in the records from having two or more sets of plans filed for the same building, even though the first set be withdrawn when the second is produced.

Gossip of the Week.

The real estate market this week makes a record for dealing in lots. Without taking into consideration the great number of lots reported to have been resold, there were seven hundred and thirteen lots sold in Manhattan. Of the seven hundred and thirteen there were four hundred and sixty-one sold in the Fort Washington Heights and Dyckman districts. The business on the Heights was much the best of the whole lot business, Mr. Charles T. Barney having sold about two hundred lots, the great majority of which were to builders. In The Bronx there were, as near as one can figure, some two thousand lots sold, and of these, J. Clarence Davies reports the resale of the Faile tract, something over one thousand two hundred lots. The total number of sales reported for Manhattan is two hundred and eleven, and for The Bronx sixty-nine, as compared with seventy-four and ten for the same week last year.

SOUTH OF 59TH STREET.

Quentin Hotel Figures in a Trade.

56TH ST.—Gunn & Grant have sold to Charles E. Ellis the Quentin Hotel, a new 9-sty apartment building, on plot 50x118, at 208 West 56th st. The site of the Quentin was formerly owned by Mrs. Elizabeth S. Clark (now Mrs. Henry C. Potter) and was sold by her, in January, 1901, to William L. Crow and James W. Taylor for $76,000. They resold it at an advance to Gunn & Grant. In part payment for the Quentin Hotel, Mr. Ellis gives two uptown buildings. One is the Marguerite, a 7-sty elevator apartment house, on plot 33.6x101.7x32x93, at 2731 Broadway, adjoining the southwest corner of 105th st. The Marguerite was built by Bryan L. Kennelly in 1899 and was sold by him for $95,000 in a trade to J. Edgar Leaycraft in 1900. Mr. Leaycraft sold it to the Bradley & Currier Co., in 1902, and in January, 1903, Mr. Ellis bought it from that company. The other property taken by Gunn & Grant in part payment for the Quentin Hotel is the 6-sty elevator apartment house, on plot 34.6x100.11, at 146 West 104th st. Gibbs & Kirby were the brokers.

Real Estate Notes.

Cornelius Vanderbilt is the buyer of 677 5th av, sold last week by Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont.

Mr. J. Plover, a prominent real estate man of San Francisco, spent last week among friends in New York City.

Nichols & Lummis have leased for Dr. Carl Beck for a term of years 35 East 31st st; also for a term of years 356 Lexington av; also 127 East 31st st.

G. Tuoti & Co. have leased for John A. Weeks the three 4-sty tenements, 609-611-613 2d av, for a term of years, at an aggregate rental of $15,390.

Cuozzo & Gagliano have leased for Bittker & Rosenblum to a client four 6-sty tenements, 319 to 325 East 100th st, for a term of years at the aggregate rental of $27,600.

Edw. de F. Smith & Co. have leased for the estate of Philip Ketterer the factory No. 414 West Broadway and 90-92 Thompson st, to Antonio Zerilla for a term of years.

Julius Friend has leased for William S. Patten to Leopold Sonn & Bro. the 6-sty factory building, 142-144 Mulberry st, size 50x100, for a term of ten years at $6,000 per annum.

H. L. Suydam & Co. have leased the store and basement 425 6th av for Hencken & Haaren for a long term at $3,000 a year to Caramello & Carbone for restaurant purposes.

The Record and Guide's prediction of long ago that this fall would see great activity in the Fort Washington Heights and Dyckman sections are being made good very emphatically.

Nichols & Lummis have sold for Robert L. Stevens, of Hoboken, to Haley Fiske, Vice-President of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., eighty acres of land on Mine Mountain, at Bernardsville, N. J. The property adjoins Mr. Fiske's present estate. They have also sold the Robert S. Cox farm of one hundred acres, situated on the Valley road, between Bernardsville and Peapack, to Dr. Augustus S. Knight.

E. V. Pescia & Co. have leased for Jonas Krinsky the 5-sty tenement 418 East 119th st for a term of years at an aggregate rental of $7,200, and for Abraham Rudinsky to a client the 5-sty tenement 213 East 97th st for a term of five years, at an aggregate rental of $10,000; for Hamburger & Kleinfeld to Pietro Zippitelli the 6-sty tenement at the corner of Mulberry and Broome st, for the term of five years, at the aggregate rental of $40,000.

William Rockefeller took title this week to 7 East 54th st. John R. Platt was the seller. Mr. Rockefeller's purchase is another move in the warfare that has continued for two years between Col. John Jacob Astor and the residents of the neighborhood of the new St. Regis Hotel, who are determined to prevent Proprietor R. M. Haan from securing a rear entrance on 54th st. The house at the northeast corner of 5th av and 54th st is owned by Mr. Rockefeller. To protect its surroundings he has already bought 3 East 54th st, besides assisting in preventing the hotel from using other houses in the block.

Mr. Webster B. Mabie has lately opened an office in the Century building at 1 West 24th st, where he will carry on a general real estate business. Mr. Mabie, for the last nine years, has been associated with the firm of H. H. Cammann & Co., for whom he negotiated many large sales of real estate. Among these may be mentioned the O'Neil property on 6th av. Also, in conjunction with Richard M. Montgomery, the old St. James Hotel at 26th st and Broadway, and the Gill building on Maiden lane, to J. Pierrepont Morgan, Maclay & Davies, associate brokers.

A Word for the Bronx West Side.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

The activity in Bronx real estate, on the East Side particularly, suggests the possibilities for great profits on the extreme west side of Tremont and Fordham, where values are altogether too low for "high ground" lands in semi-fashionable neighborhoods. Of course it has been the rule in this city for the East Side to lead improvements (the masses congregate there); but it has also been the invariable rule that the West Side property is the most desirable for investors who look for clean and nice land that will enhance in value because those who can afford to pay for it will be the ultimate buyers. Morris Heights and Fordham Heights, as well as Kingsbridge Heights (beautiful locations), where the University of New York and the charitable institutions are located, seem to offer innumerable bargains in lots; and all students of New York City real estate know that the public institutions and colleges have had a wonderful knack for planting themselves where the great increase in values follows. With the advent of the Subway opening, I predict a boom in West Side Bronx real estate in the vicinity above named. Of course the boom below the ship canal will help it, too.

Material Market.

IN GENERAL.

Prices for materials of all sorts are hardening a little. Wall plaster manufacturers are having a prosperous season, though the sales could have been larger. The Portland cement business is steadily getting on a firmer footing. A large quantity will be taken by the new Pennsylvania depot, but of a grade that will confine the business to a few mills. Some of the largest will not compete. The slate business is reported to be a little slow. One of the new uses for slate is in the making of electrical switchboards. Sewer-pipe manufacturers throughout the country are having a reasonably good business year, and the vitrified brick men are reported doing well. This has been an active season also for the roofing business, but the cut-stone interests have been troubled by strikes, though there remain many jobs that are not disturbed. Most of the largest building operations of the city are now under roof, or are being rushed to that stage in order that inside work may proceed without fear of weather interruption. The Hudson River Blue Stone Co. is doing considerable for private interests, but corporation work in the blue stone line is slack.

PROSPERITY IN THE BRICK BUSINESS.

Not for a generation has the manufacture of common bricks on the Hudson River for this market been as remunerative as it is this season, and ever since the great strikes of last summer ended. Seven dollars per thousand by the cargo was the ruling price last fall and in the early summer of this year, and "seven-fifty" has been the password in the wholesale market for several months. Notwithstanding that labor troubles have interferred with some building trades in Manhattan, the amount of brick being laid throughout the city generally exceeds the record of any year since 1898, when between eighty and ninety barge loads were required weekly, and the year's output from the yards was about twelve hundred millions. The year 1899 was another of large brick production, but in 1901 the enactment of the tenement house law discouraged a large amount of building and left at the end of the season an enormous quantity of brick in the manufacturers' hands. Great dissatisfaction characterized the season of 1902, and in 1903 there was little or nothing at all doing until the strikes and lockouts ended, and then in the fall and early winter dealers had to pay seven dollars a thousand if they had failed to take sufficient advantage of the demoralized prices of mid-summer.

Last week the cargoes sold totaled 72, but in previous weeks of this season as many as eighty had been taken, and in one notable week 93 cargoes were received and disposed of. At other times when the market took sixty boats a week it was considered in a normal condition. Under these circumstances the producers feel that life is worth living, and most of them are living for a fact, if buying expensive country seats, running for office and playing with automobiles are evidence of high life. It is as though Supply and Demand had at last formed an alliance to recompense the manufacturers of common brick for the ill-treatment of the past. Or, it may be that President Hammond has at last successfully prevailed upon the members of the manufacturers' association to keep their production within bounds. While a positive statement cannot be made as to this, it is recalled that at the meetings of last winter and spring some efforts to control an output that threatened to swamp, the market before this season was half over were recommended, and a date later than usual was set for opening the manufacturing season.

If the limit price at which brick can be profitably manufactured and delivered in this market is five dollars, there is ground for the rumor from Haverstraw that the manufacturers there are "salting" away two dollars for every thousand bricks manufactured, that the two village banks have on deposit more than a million dollars, and that the net profits to Haverstraw manufacturers for the season, based on a three hundred million output, will be not less than $500,000. A suggestion for a "harvest home" banquet would be quite in order, we think. Builders here in the city, though grumbling over the high price of bricks, have consoled themselves with the moderate or cheap prices of other material.

For all—manufacturer, dealer and builder, the future is full of promise. An enormous extension of the city is certain to follow the opening of the Subway, on Fort Washington Heights, Dyckman Meadows, and in the Bronx generally. Up yonder is the new New York.

IMPROVED ENGLISH CEMENT POSITION.

From the London "Times" it is learned that the accounts of the Associated Portland Cement Manufacturers for the year ended June 30, show an improvement over the results of the year before. The accounts of this company for the year ended June 30 show that after allowing £135,592 for repairs and renewals, the gross profits were £335,721, and £6,971 was brought forward. Management charges, debenture interest, etc., leave a divisable balance of £161,543. It is proposed to add £25,000 to the general reserve fund and pay the final dividend on the 5½ per cent. preference shares, leaving £17,658 to be carried forward.

The directors state that the profits of the fourth year of the Associated Portland Cement Company's working show a substantial increase over those of the preceding year, to a great extent due to economies which are the result of a large expenditure of capital on improvements in the plant and machinery. Owing to the competition which the depression of trade has intensified, the selling price of cement has again fallen, while the higher price of coke has made fuel dearer for the year. The directors therefore consider the improvement achieved distinctly satisfactory.

AMALGAMATION OF BROOKLYN INTERESTS.

The Builders' League of Brooklyn is expected to be reorganized, a committee having been appointed for the purpose by the New York Lumber Dealers' Association, consisting of the principal lumber firms in New York and its vicinity. The reorganization will virtually be an amalgamation of not only building contractors, but lumber dealers, building material dealers, and all others connected with the building industry. It is expected too that the league will co-operate with the Building Trades Employers' Association, many of the former's members being associate members of the latter.

Building Operations.

Addition to Commandant's House.

NAVY YARD, Brooklyn.—A. considerable addition is to be built to the residence of the commandant at the Brooklyn Navy Yard. Bids for doing the work will be received by M. T. Endicott, Chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks at Washington, D. C., until October 29.

New Hospital for Jersey City.

JERSEY CITY, N. J.—Raymond F. Almirall and Clinton Mackenzie, associated, 51 Chambers st, Manhattan, have been commissioned to prepare plans for a fine up-to-date hospital building to be erected in Jersey City, N. J., at an estimated cost of about $200,000. A description of the building cannot be given at this time as the plans are yet in the preliminary stage. Dr. Gordon K. Dickinson 278 Montgomery st, Jersey City, is president Board of Health, and can give information.

Improvements in 30th Street.

30TH ST.—Plans are ready and specifications are being written in the office of N. C. Mellen, 27 West 30th st, for $10,000 worth of improvements to 19 West 30th st. The building, which is a 4-sty store and loft, will be renovated throughout, with a 2½-sty extension, 25x28, steel beams, iron columns, elevator shaft, stairs, skylights, and concrete floors. Thomas M. Applegarth, 119 West 90th st, is the owner. No contracts have been issued, and estimates will be received on and after Monday, Oct. 24th.

A Broadway Improvement.

BROADWAY.—Plans are ready, or nearly so, for the 12-sty store and loft building, 41.2x130 feet, for Philip Braender, of 418 Central Park West, which will be erected at 684 Broadway. The structure will cost $350,000, and will contain slag or gravel roof, a front facade of terra cotta, brick and iron, with Indiana limestone trimmings, steel frame, two passenger and one freight elevators, galvanized iron cornices, steam heat, electric light, tile and marble work, etc. Frederick C. Browne, 143 West 125th st, is the architect, and states that Mr. Braender will take all sub-estimates and award all contracts.

Plans for Largest Public Bath.

AVENUE A.—William Martin Aiken and Arnold W. Brunner, associated, 33 Union sq, have completed plans for the largest public bath yet erected in New York City. The new building will be situated on the east side of Avenue A, between 23d and 24th sts, and will cost the city $250,000. It will measure 163.6x140.9 feet, 1-sty in height and will be fireproof, containing a slag and copper roof, a front of brick and limestone, copper and galvanized iron skylights, limestone and terra cotta cornices, steel frame, electric lights, and steam heat. As soon as plans have been approved by the Building Department, estimates will be received in the usual way.

Kingsland, N. J., which is between Newark and Passaic. The site is now being cleared, and the paint and coach shop, mill building and power station will be the first to rise. The paint and coach shop will be 660 feet long and 170 feet wide, with a lean to at one end 50x268, and an annex 70x300. The mill will be 70x264 feet and will be equipped with wood-working machinery. It will be electrically operated and will contain an elaborate shavings and sawdust exhaust system. The specifications for the mechanical equipment are being formulated by R. F. Kilpatrick, Superintendent of Motive Power, whose headquarters are at Scranton, Pa. G. F. Wilson, whose offices are at 26 Exchange pl, New York, is the purchasing agent of the company. A contract for an electric transfer table about 70x700 feet, which will be located between the paint and coach and machine shops, has been awarded to Nichols Bros. of Chicago.

Country Residence for Mr. M. L. Schiff.

C. P. H. Gilbert, architect, Townsend building, informs the Record and Guide that he is preparing plans, specifications, etc., for extensive improvements to the large tract purchased within the last few days by Mortimer L. Schiff, of the firm of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., bankers. The property is situated on high land about a mile from the Oyster Bay railroad station. Everything pertaining to the improvement is in the hands of the architect, who will have full charge of the work. Numerous outbuildings will be erected, and roads, water supply, electric and steam heating plants, sewage systems, etc., will be installed. Plans are now being prepared for a large fireproof residence which will be equipped with the latest conveniences. Mr. Gilbert has had charge of the improvement of a number of the finest country estates in this vicinity, and the improvements for Mr. Schiff will be equal in every respect to the finest estates in this section.

First Reinforced Concrete Residence.

Plans have been accepted and approved, and the excavating and foundation are now under way for the first residence of reinforced concrete to be erected in this vicinity. The building will occupy a fine corner plot at 8th st and Castle Point terrace, West Hoboken, New Jersey, and will be occupied by Mr. Frederick Baar, of that city. The structure will measure 41x51.6 on the ground, and will be 2½-stories and basement in height. The designs show for the basement floor a billiard and Dutch room, 24x41 feet in size, a wine cellar, reception hall, laundry, furnace, store, and coal rooms. On the first story there will be a large veranda, and glass conservatory, parlor, library, dining-room, kitchen, reception hall, butler's pantry, main stairs, servants' stairs, dumbwaiter and circle bay windows. The kitchen will have glass tile side walls from floor to ceiling. On the second floor there will be five bed rooms, sewing room, two bath rooms, shower bath, and extra toilets. The attic will also contain five sleeping rooms, cedar room, trunk room, and servants' bath room. There will be concrete floors and a Spanish metal tile roof, electric light and steam heat. All outside walls and partitions will be nine inches thick, of concrete reinforced with ⅜-inch iron rods running every 12 inches horizontally, and every 2 feet vertically. The walls and partitions non-bearing will be of fireproof blocks. The interior will be trimmed with yellow pine, red birch, and quartered oak, and there will be elaborate decorations. The exterior will be ornamental and marked off in squares. The building will cost in the neighborhood of $20,000, and will be erected by the Wight-Easton-Townsend Company, of 160 Fifth av, Manhattan. The architects are Bruno W. Berger & Son, of 121 Bible House, New York.

The Banishment of Wood.

Is the West more Progressive than the East? Is the Architect of, say Cincinnati or Chicago, more hospitable to new ideas than his Confrere in New York, Boston or Philadelphia?

Perhaps not. But certainly out West they are very Willing to Listen to, and they are very ready to Adopt Modern Ideas.

In Chicago, the North-western Railroad is building an enormous Office-Building. The Architects of the structure determined to Banish Wood from it. They succeeded almost—but not quite. They got rid of the Window-sashes, Wooden-trim, even the Door-frames.

They were bothered, however, by the Doors, also by the Flooring—the Trouble with the Latter lying in the fact that the Great Multitude of Clerks objected to most of the known substitutes for Wood-flooring!

With "Hecla Fireproofing," however, the Architects could have Banished absolutely All Wood. They Need not have Retained even enough Lumber to make a Match.

Their Floors and Doors, their Window-sashes and Framing, their Stair-treads and Dados, could all have been Constructed of "Hecla Fireproofing—strong as Granite, Lighter than any other Fireproofing Material, susceptible of being treated in an infinite variety of Ornamental Ways, in all colors and every kind of a finish.

There is not a Single Draw-back to the use of this highly scientific, highly practical "Hecla Fireproofing."

If you are building; if you are about to build; if you ever intend to build, send at once for full information, which will be cheerfully given to you, in any way that will suit your convenience.

Seiffer, of 265 Greene st, is the owner.

Miscellaneous.

An annex to Pratt Institute, Brooklyn, to cost $75,000, and to measure 45x136 feet, four stories, is to be erected, and the general contract has been given out.

The ferry-house at Ellis Island is to be enlarged by widening and otherwise improved. Bids will be received until next Wednesday afternoon at the office of the Commissioner of Immigration on Ellis Island.

OCEAN AV, BROOKLYN.—Plans have been filed for a brick church to be erected at Berkeley rd and Ocean av, for the Methodist Episcopal Congregation; cost, $50,000. W. O. Weam & Son, Harrisburg, Pa., are the architects.

22D ST.—F. Livingston Peil, 31 Union sq, is taking figures for alterations to 106 East 22d st, the parish house of Calvary Church (4th av and 21st st). The Jones Constr. Co., 1 Union sq, has recently completed an addition to and alterations in the church edifice.

Robert T. Lyons, 31 Union sq, has some substantial improvements under way: the 12-sty building at 47-49 Maiden lane being erected by the Fleischman Realty & Constr. Co., of 7 East 42d st, and two large alterations for the Astor estate, one at 44 East 14th st, the other at 74 Broadway, both being done by James McWalters.

The Thompson-Starrett Co., of 49 Wall st, has the sub-structure work of the new Produce Exchange Bank well advanced. This is the first building in New York to have a foundation of simplex concrete piles, and its floors and roofs will be made with long-span concrete slabs reinforced with Clinton wire-cloth. The same contracting company has six of the ten stories of the Schieren warehouse in Cliff st raised, and is well advanced with an apartment hotel in 27th st. This is a 12-sty building with ground dimensions of 60x100 feet, and contains about 600 tons of steel framework. The same company has contracts in Philadelphia, Chicago, St. Louis, Baltimore, Winnipeg, Cleveland and other cities. In Philadelphia the erection is nearly completed of the 8,000-ton steel framework for the first section of the 12-sty Wanamaker building, which will contain a total of about 25,000 tons of structural steel. In Cleveland the erection of the 2,500-ton 16-sty Rockefeller office building is nearly completed. In Winnipeg the Thompson-Starrett Co. is building the first skyscraper in that city; in St. Louis, the Garrick Theater; in Baltimore, the Continental Trust building, and in Chicago, Orchestra Hall and the Otto Young office building.

Harold Van Buren Magonigle, 156 5th av, has been selected in competition as architect for the McKinley Mausoleum to be erected in Canton, Ohio, at a cost of about $400,000.

Alterations.

NOSTRAND AV., Brooklyn.—The Cowperthwaite residence, at the southeast corner of Nostrand av and Pacific st, Brooklyn, has been purchased by Dr. George D. Hamlin, of 143 Kent av, who will extensively improve the property. The building is 3 stories, on plot 100x114, and contains 17 rooms.

Of Interest to the Building Trades.

It is estimated that a thousand elevators will be required in rebuilding the burnt district of Baltimore. The call for elevators is consequently said to be urgent.

Among the exhibitors of cement at the St. Louis fair are the Atlas Portland Cement Co., the Lehigh Portland Cecent Co.. the Vulcanite Portland Cement Co., and the Lawrence Portland Cement Co.

The recently completed Oxford apartment house in West 55th st; New York, contains about 150 tons of framework with patent columns and cast iron pedestals seated on a reinforced concrete footing supported by 157 steel pipes carried down about 50 feet below the sidewalk. Both substructure and superstructure were designed and erected by the J. H. Gray Co., and the structural steel work was fabricated by the American Bridge Co.

The Foundation & Contracting Co., 35 Nassau st, have underway the pneumatic caisson foundations for the Commercial Cable building annex on the northeast corner of New st and Exchange pl. The contract calls for enclosing the lot with a continuous line of caissons connected, and the general excavation of the interior of the lot to a depth of about 30 feet below curb. The pneumatic caissons upon which the building will rest will be sunk to rock which is found about 45 feet below curb. Howells & Stokes, 100 William st, are the architects.

The report of Dr. J. S. Billings, director of the New York Public Library, has been made public. Of the work on the new Library building it says: "The work has made fair progress, but there has been considerable delay, on account of the difficulty of obtaining marble, of the labor troubles, and of the extremely cold weather of the winter. About one-third of the masonry and marble work and one-third of the fire-proofing have been completed. The exterior walls in 42d st are up to the third floor level, except for a small space in the center. The Bryant Park wall is near the third floor level, the 40th st wall is at the second floor level, and the center of the Fifth av front is about one-third up on the first floor. The floor beams in the second story are nearly all in place and the fireproofing is partly done."

Mr. Arthur Stoughton, of the architectural firm of Stoughton & Stoughton, 96 Fifth av, on Wednesday evening, delivered an interesting and instructive lecture in Cathedral Hall in East 50th st, on the subject "Architecture and Its Relation to Life." The lecture was illustrated by many lantern slides showing pictures of representative foreign historical buildings.

The Conviction of Weinseimer.

It is said that one generation never learns from the experience of its predecessor, preferring to investigate for itself. Weinseimer might have learned from the fate of Parks, but did not. Consequently he, in his turn, is at this hour up against the cold proposition of a prison door, standing convicted of extortion, and in a few days to be sentenced at the hands of the court. Deliberately setting out to graft, to betray his union on any and all occasions for the highest prices he could extort from such contractors as fell into his power, he reaped a measure of the spoil he expected, and probably is not surprised that he was apprehended. For he would not be the first to deliberately decide upon suffering a slight punishment if he could filch a fortune.

Before Philip Weinseimer formed his Alliance of walking delegates, he had been remuneratively employed as an arbitrator. In this capacity he found it advantageous for his pocket to have arbitration proceedings stretched out as long as possible, and much of the remaining dissatisfaction in the unions adhering to the Alliance is due to the procrastination of judgments for which such arbitrators as Weinseimer were to blame. For his peculiar services he charged his union enormous prices, until a ruling was made which limited the compensation of arbitrators to a reasonable wage. Then, when this graft was gone, the Alliance board was formed and excuses were sought for ordering strikes and fighting the "General Arbitration Plan."

It is unnecessary here to go over the case as it was disclosed in the court in the last fortnight. Taking the stand in his own defence he denied emphatically that he ever had received a dollar from George Essig as the price of ordering the striking union plumbers to return to Essig's contract. Although he was not permitted to answer, from the questions on the subject it would seem that the accused labor leader had in bank, to his account, more than $85,000 on August 17 last, when he was arrested. Pressed as to his sources of revenue, he admitted he had received "substantial presents," one being $3,000 given to him a year ago last July by Alexander Bryant, who was chairman of the Conference Committee of the Master Plumbers' Association, and which was in recognition of his services in getting the union men to sign an agrement with the employing plumbers. He was not permitted to answer Mr. Rand's question whether he had told W. E. D. Stokes that for $5,000 he would order back to work the plumbers who had quit work on the Ansonia Hotel. Weinseimer denied on his direct examination that he had extonted any money. Essig never paid him any money, he said, nor gave him any notes.

Nothing has been heard of the Building Trade Alliance of late, and it is intimated that another reorganization is imminent. Having decapitated the board of walking delegates twice, to all intents and purposes, the Employers feel that there will be less trouble from that source in the future.

—A unique publication has just made its appearance under the title of "The Corporation Bulletin," a periodical for business corporations. It is issued quarterly by the United States Corporation Co., of 32 Nassau st, New York city, who announced that it has been established for the purpose of giving to persons interested in business corporations, correct and timely information on matters of corporation law and organization. The publishers are confident that it will be of great value to thousands of corporations now operating in the state of New York under charters obtained in this state or elsewhere. There are numerous statutory provisions affecting such corporations, a failure to comply with which may result in excessive taxation, in fines and penalties, or in personal liability upon the officers. The laws are frequently changed and decisions construing the laws are being constantly made by the courts. To enjoy fully the advantages conferred by incorporation some familiarity of the ordinary requirements of the law is essential, and the publishers believe that the bulletin will be found useful by everybody interested in corporations. A copy of the first number of the publication may be had free of charge by writing to the United States Corporation Company, 32 Nassau st.

CONVEYANCES

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street or avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482—10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—A $20,000—$30,000 indicates the assessed value of the property, the first figures being for the lot only and the second figures representing both lot and building. Letter P before 2d figure indicates that the property is assessed as in course of construction.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage was drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

October 14, 15, 17, 18, 19, 20.

The Private Branch Exchange System of supplying TELEPHONE SERVICE is particularly adapted to the requirements of LARGE HOTELS and APARTMENT HOUSES

By means of a Private Branch Exchange the general telephone service, local, suburban and long distance, is available in every room and apartment. A complete interior service is also supplied, adding largely to the efficiency, and decreasing the cost of the hotel service proper. No modern Hotel or Apartment House should lack a

FURNITURE.—Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Isthmian Canal Commission, Washington, D. C., until the 1st day of November, 1904, when they will be publicly opened for furnishing 400 single iron beds, 400 mattresses for same, 1,200 chairs, 800 tables, 400 sets wash stands and racks, 400 hanging racks and 400 bureaus.

George Spearin, of New York, who was the lowest bidder for the work of constructing the proposed dry dock at the Brooklyn Navy Yard, asked the Navy Department to add $100,000 to his figures as originally submitted. Spearin's bid was $673,000 and that of the next lowest bidder, John Pierce, of New York, was $833,000. The request went to the Chief of the Bureau of Yards and Docks, and was then referred to the judge advocate of the department, upon whose advice the request was this week denied, and Spearin is to be held to his tender.

Contracts for buildings at Fort Totten have been awarded as follows: For constructing gymnasium and two double sets N. C. O. quarters and one double Lieut. Qrs. and 1 double Capt. Qrs., to Herman Probst, 1180 Broadway, New York city, $69,500; and for 2 field officers and 2 double Capt. Qrs., to the North-Eastern Constr. Co., Fuller Bldg., New York city, for $68,693. Heating and plumbing to Jas. H. Merritt & Co., 48 Cliff st, New York city, for heating and plumbing gymnasium, heating field officers', Capt. and Lieut. Qrs., and plumbing N. C. O. Qrs., $9,524. The Watson Flagg Eng. Co., 27 Thames st, New York city, secured the contract for wiring most of the buildings, for $1,619.

Bids will be received by the Supervising Architect of the Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., until November 21, at 3 p. m., for the construction complete of the U. S. Post Office at Ottawa, Illinois, and until November 22, at 3 p. m. for the construction complete of the U. S. Post Office and Custom House, Georgetown, South Carolina, in accordance with the drawings and specifications, copies of which may be had of James Knox Taylor, Supervising Architect.

New Jersey.

TOTOWA, N. J.—At Passaic, Architect Herman Fritz, News Building, has prepared plans for a brick school building to be erected at Totowa, N. J.

JERSEY CITY, N. J.—C. Fred Long, 76 Montgomery st, Jersey City, has prepared plans for a 4-sty brick apartment house to be erected on Manhattan, west of Summit av, for H. Vogel, 83 Sherman pl.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—J. T. Windrim, 1107 Walnut st, Philadelphia, Pa., has plans for five stores, to be erected at Atlantic City, for the Atlantic Steel Pier Co. Two stories, 100x150 ft., brick and steel, slag roof, steam heat, fireproof floors, plate and leaded glass, gas and electric fixtures, etc.

JERSEY CITY, N. J.—The Street and Water Board, Charles Van Keuren, Ch. Engr., has decided to improve Nesbitt st. The Board of Freeholders, John P. Egan, Clk., Court House, is ready to receive proposals for $800,000 worth of county park bonds. The board has also ordered the issue of $26,000 worth of bonds to complete the Paterson Plank road improvement.

JERSEY CITY.—C. H. Van Keuren, Ch. Engr. Street and Water Board, is stated to have completed plans for a relief sewer for the Jackson Av. Dist. The plans call for a sewer to be built partly of brick and partly of steel. It is to be 8 feet wide at its terminus at New York Bay. Entire cost is to be $160,000.

ASBURY PARK, N. J.—At Asbury Park it is probable that a number of improvements will be made, including the extension of the boardwalk to Deal Lake Flume, more bathhouses, a promenade around the ocean end of the arcade and alterations to the casino. Beach Commissioner Steiner favors the construction of a new ocean pier.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—Mr. Conover, builder, at Chelsea, Atlantic City, N. J., has obtained the contract to build the new 6-sty hotel on the beach front near New Jersey av, that city, for Mrs. Mary F. Adams, whose address is Ryan Flats, corner of Virginia and Pacific avs. The proposed new hotel will be built of brick and will have every modern and up-to-date appointment. It is the intention of Mrs. Adams to have the new hotel ready for guests by Easter of 1905.

CAMDEN, N. J.—Camden's new trust company will be chartered in a few days. The location will be near Broadway and Kaighn av., Camden, N. J., and a neat building will be erected. It is most likely that the company will secure the vacant lot on Broadway a few doors north of Kaighn av. Dr. William Shafer, a physician and druggist, of Haddon and Wright avs, that city, is the secretary and one of the prime movers in the scheme to erect the new building. The capital of the trust company will be $100,000.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as head lines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The only real test of a roofing tin is the roof-proof. Even if there is a tin which will last as long as "Taylor Old Style," no one knows it.

N. & G. TAYLOR COMPANY
ESTABLISHED 1810
Philadelphia

We do not use Bessemer Steel in the manufacture of any of our Brands of Tin Plate, not even our common brands. The Black Plate used in the "Taylor Old Style" Brand is a special quality to insure absolute durability and has a soft, absorbent surface for that purpose.

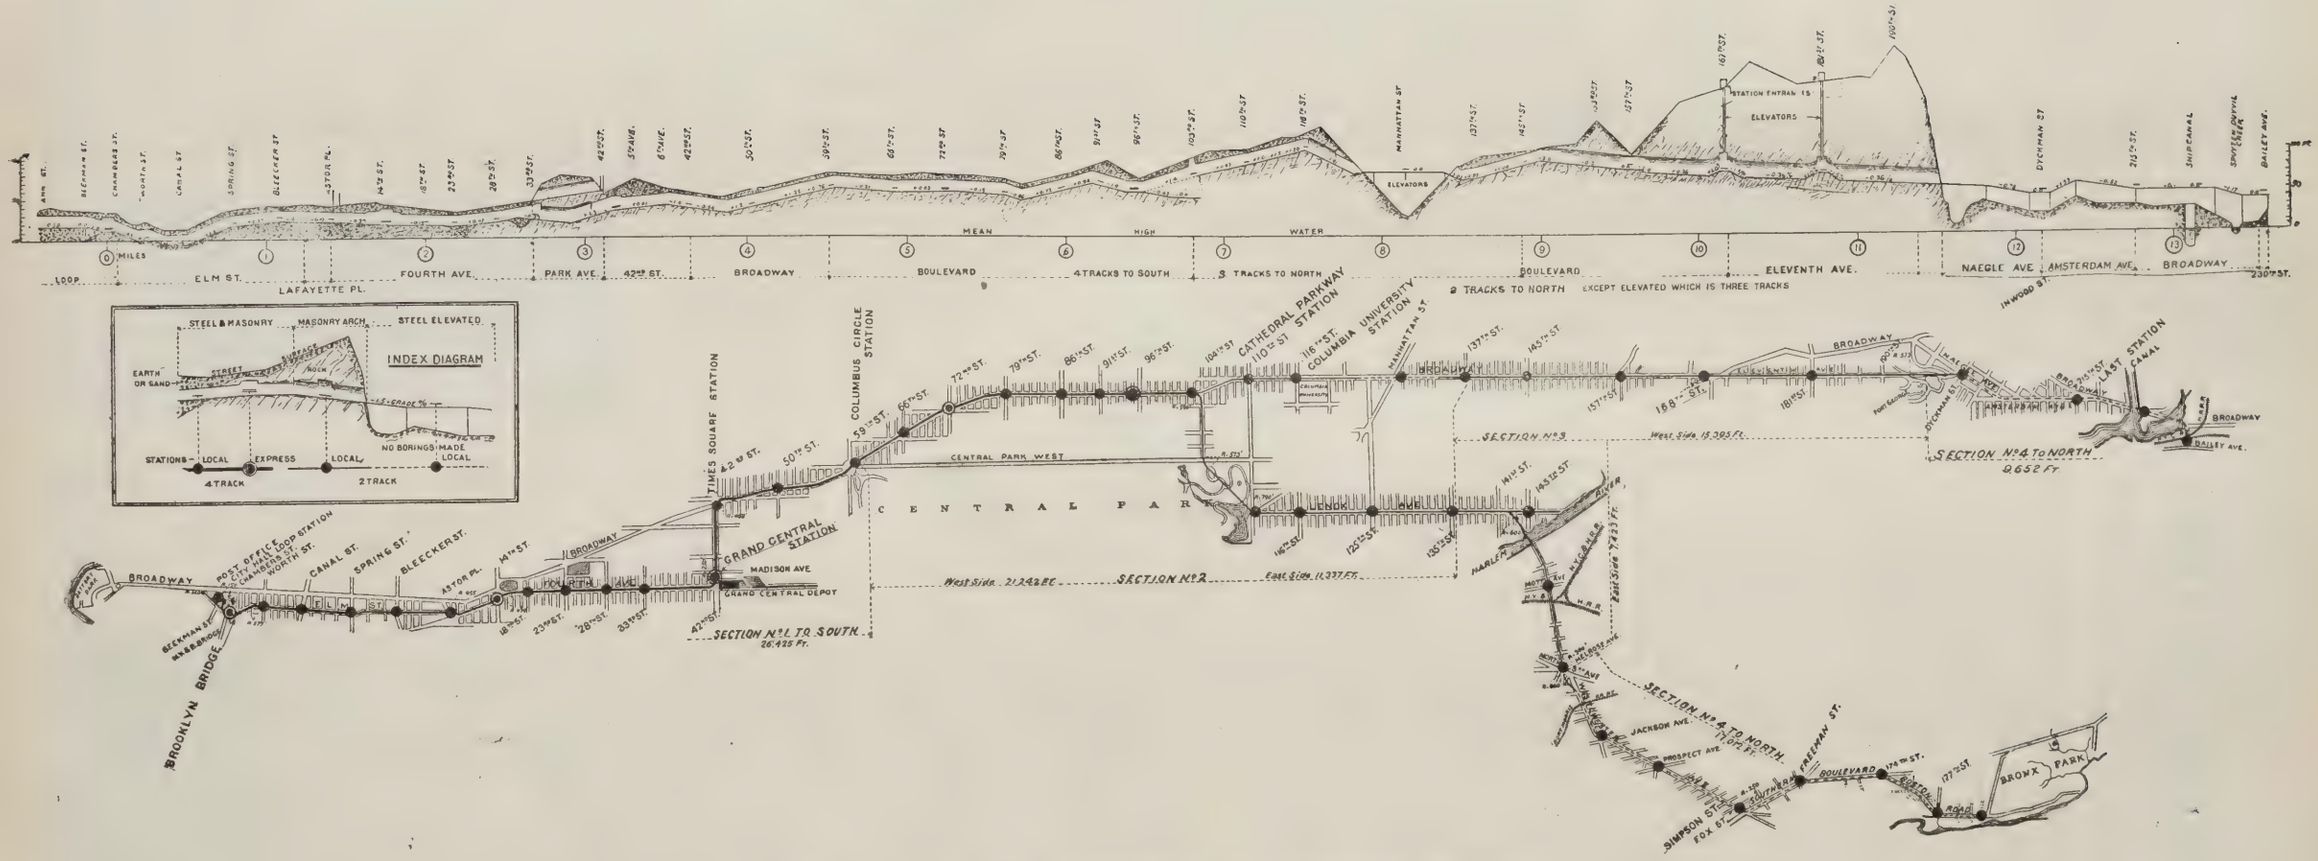
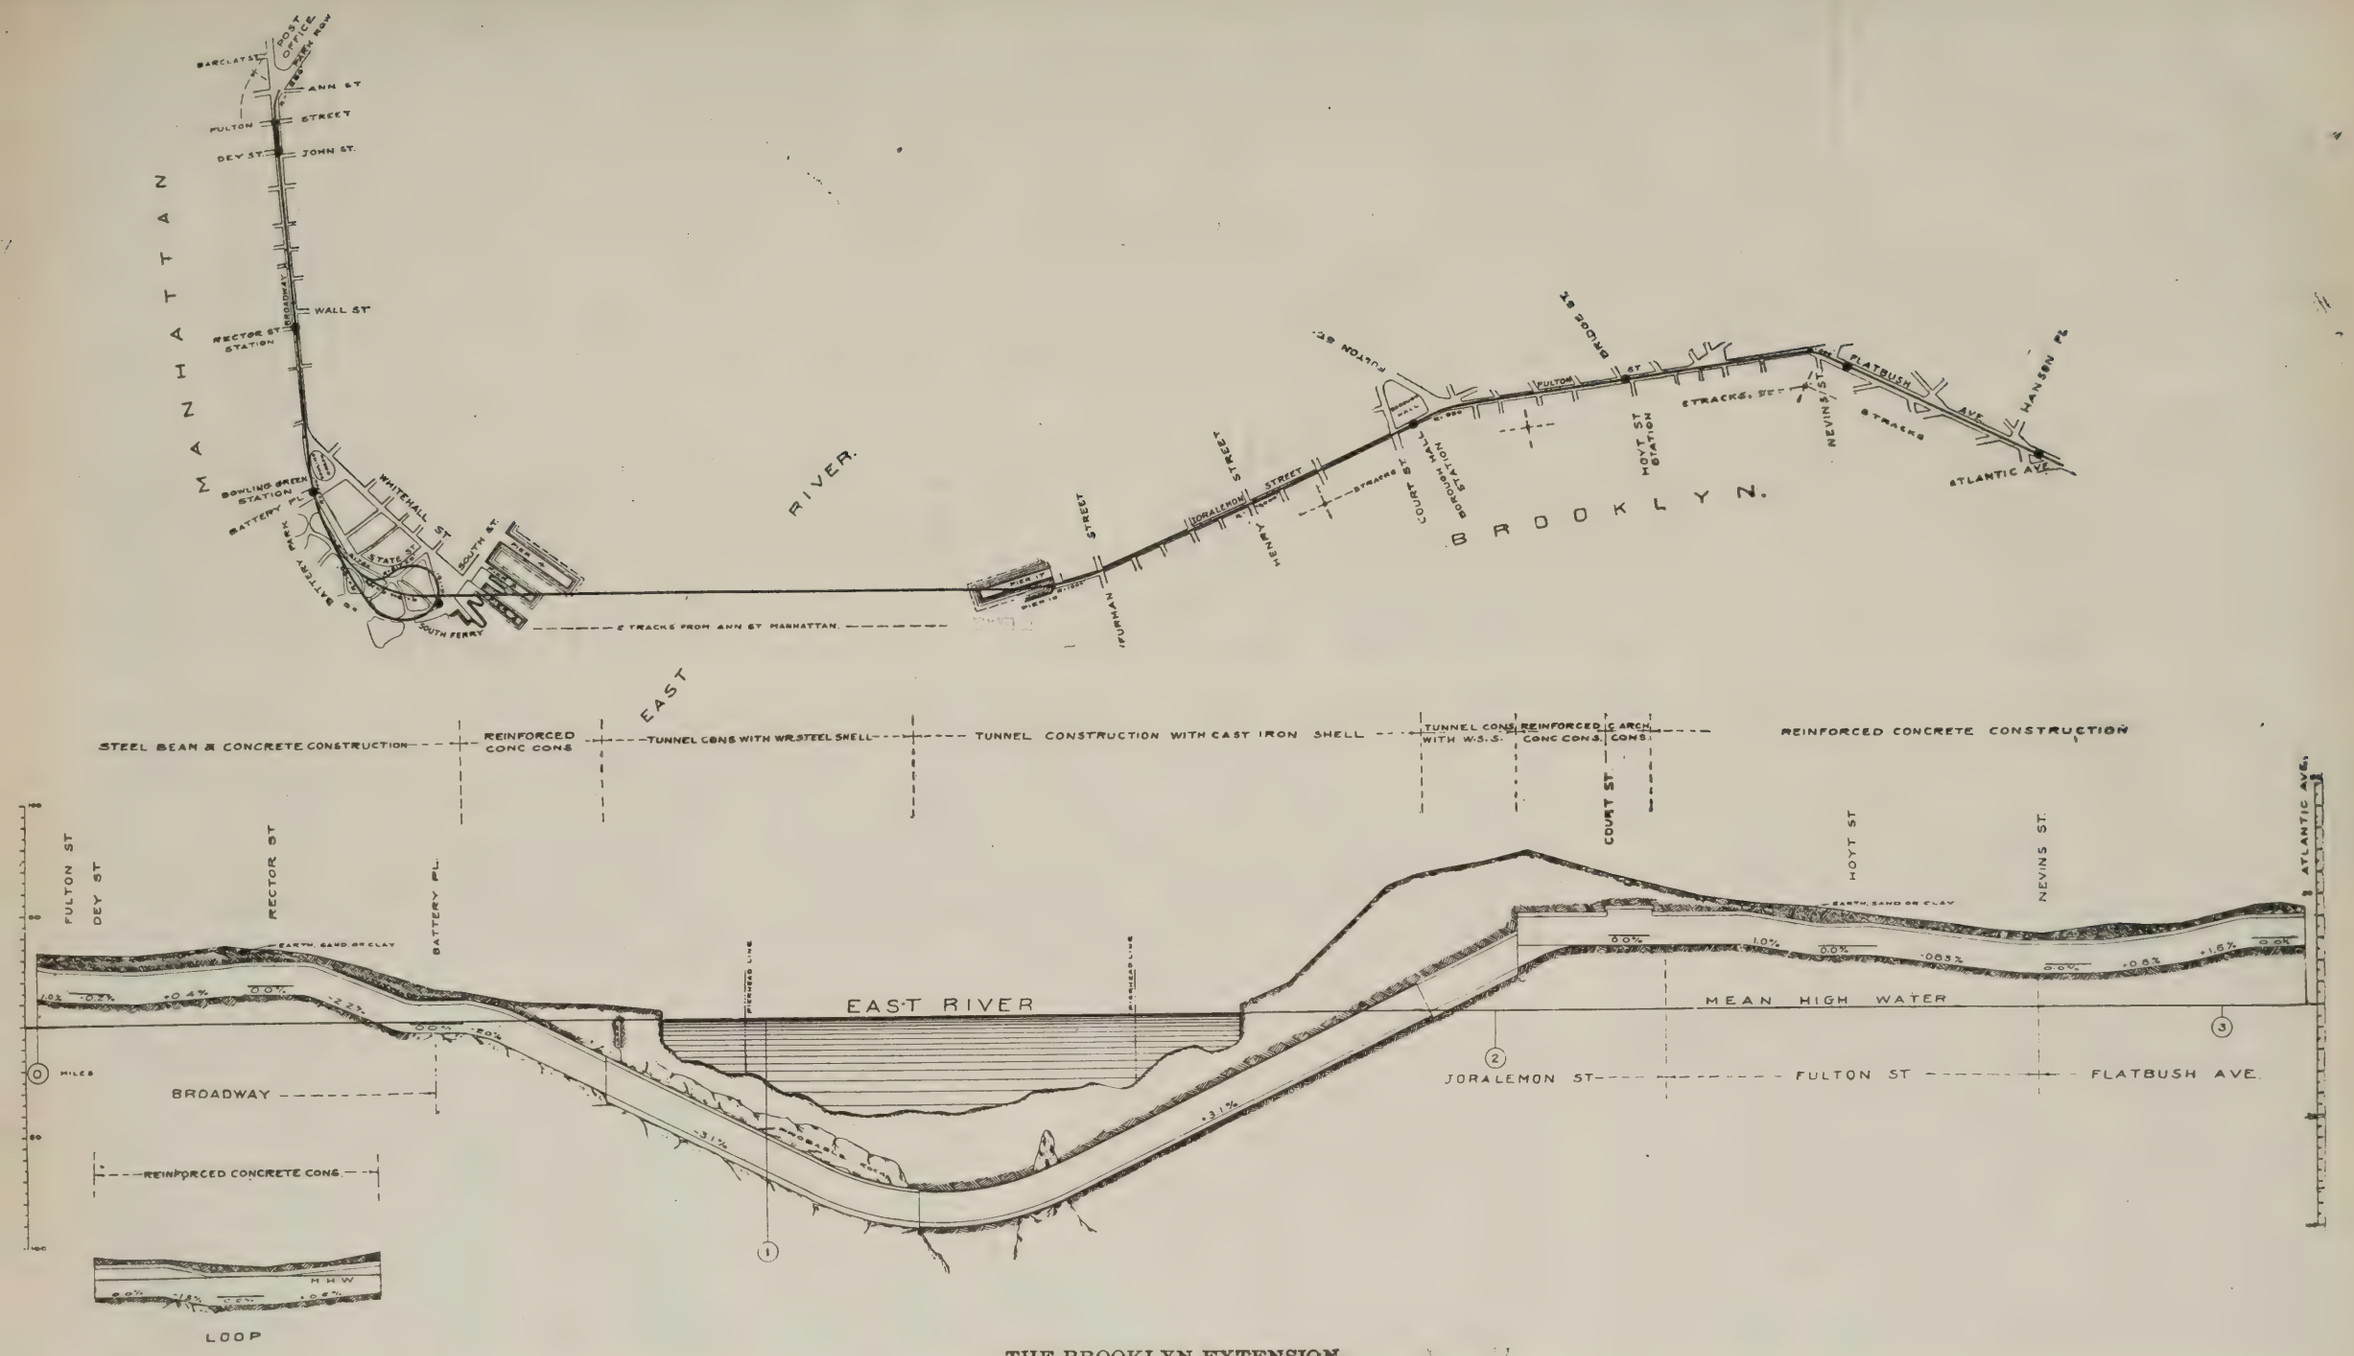
Vol. LXXIV. October 29, 1904. No. 1911.



THE stock market received some very heavy shocks this week. There was the threatened war between Russia and Great Britain, the report of the Steel corporation which was less favorable than was anticipated, the gold exports; and certain expressions of very authoritative opinion that the speculation was over-reaching itself. It certainly stood the shocks very well. Severe declines were followed by rallies, and Friday was as usual a good day. Whatever the weakness of the situation from the point of view of the speculators for an advance, the present level of prices is certainly very stubbornly maintained. The men who are carrying stocks are not in an apprehensive or weak position. They still on the whole control the situation—whether by sufferance or substantial strength remains to be seen. From the point of view of investment values it certainly looks as if the limit had been reached, and that any tightening of the money market would cause a more considerable reaction. But it is possible that no tightening of the money market will take place this fall. At any rate it looks as if, in case any slump comes along, it will come slowly rather than unexpectedly and that speculators who are carrying stocks will have time to get out.

THE real estate business of the past week has continued to be chiefly in vacant lots; and it has differed from the business of the week before more than anything else in the circumstance that the operators have been passing the lots on to builders. The total sales have been phenomenally large amounting to about 180 in Manhattan and 120 in the Bronx. The Bronx total is particularly impressive, reaching as it does to a larger total than both Manhattan and the Bronx for the corresponding week last year. A total of over 840 lots have been sold in that Borough against about 240 on Washington Heights and 89 in the Lenox Ave. section. It will be seen consequently that the tide of business north of the Harlem has been swelling to an extraordinary bulk. Another interesting fact of the week has been the appearance of the Century Realty Co. and the United States Realty & Construction Company as buyers of a large block of Bronx property. It was inevitable, as the Record and Guide has pointed out several times of late, that the large speculative companies would begin operations in unimproved lands along the Subway. The activity and the profit lie in transactions of this kind. For the present they must forsake the region of sky-scrapers in the middle reaches of Manhattan and help along the building up of the outer margin of the city; and the wonderful thing about New York as a field for real estate and building operations is the great variety of the opportunities offered. Sometimes one kind of opportunity prevails and sometimes another; but there is almost always a decent chance for profitable business. Another noticeable fact is the extent to which flats are being adopted as the form of improvement for Washington Heights. So far as we are aware none of the sales of the past few weeks have been made to builders who propose to put up private dwellings. Last spring when Mr. Chas. T. Barney first announced that the Donnelly tract was on the market, he stated his intention of practically restricting the side streets to dwellings; but all these lots have now passed into the hands of apartment-house builders. Furthermore, of the 300 or more sales consummated in Manhattan and the Bronx only eighteen are private dwellings. Is Washington Heights to become a city of flats and tenements and little else?



THE "Sun" has recently stated with great precision the distinguishing characteristic of the current speculation in vacant land on Washington Heights and in the Bronx. "No preceding lot speculation on a grand scale," it says, "has been so directly associated with immediate building enterprise or so closely related to building enterprise of a certain kind." This is an extremely important fact and must be kept constantly in mind in estimating the results of the "boom." It is not a "boom" at all in the old sense of the word. This country and this city has passed through many periods of wild speculation in land and unwholesome inflation of land values. The wildest of these periods of local inflation occurred early in the seventies when the prices of lots on 5th ave were raised to a level which was out of all proportions to their immediate value for improvement; and which were only a little less than the level attained thirty years later in 1902. At the same time lots on Broadway, in the Dyckman tract were selling for about the same prices that they have been recently bringing. The paying of these prices for property, which would not be reached for a generation in the natural growth of the city was, of course, mere inflation and could be explained only by a popular craze for real estate speculation. Since then there have been several "booms" on Washington Heights, all of which were fruitless, because the district was too inaccessible for immediate exploitation. Since those days, however, the whole business of dealing in vacant lots and selling them for improvement has become very much better organized than it was. It has become the occupation of a group of professional operators, who in almost all the purchases they make keep the possibility of early and profitable improvement in mind. They do not buy vacant land with the expectation of holding it indefinitely, but with the purpose of turning it over to a builder within a few months. Under such circumstances there is very little room for inflation because values are based upon the known yield of the property when improved. It was the same way with the so-called "boom" of two years ago in high-priced real estate in Manhattan. Business men who heard of the large increase in values argued by analogy that inflation was taking place, and expected that in a year or two the "boom" would be punctured and values would drop. But in this case as in that of the vacant land, the prices were made for the most part by professional operators, who knew very well what they were about, and who did not pay more for a piece of property than was warranted by the income which could be derived from it when properly improved. The existing market for real estate in this city is for better or worse a professional market. General investors do not like real estate as much as they used to, because the professional operators keep the profits for themselves; but the latter earn the profits they make and they assuredly prevent any considerable "inflation" of real estate values.

IT is doubtful whether the incorporation of a tunnel company by the Lackawanna Railroad foreshadows the construction of still another connection underneath the river between New Jersey and Connecticut. The counsel for the company states that the tunnel will be built; but the project to build one may be simply a move in the fight between the railroads and the trolley tunnel company. As an outsider sees it the alternative either of constructing or of not constructing a tunnel seems to present grave difficulties for the railroad company. At present the Lackawanna controls an extremely lucrative traffic to the most populous New Jersey suburbs. This traffic is threatened in some measure by the Pennsylvania tunnel; but it is much more seriously threatened by the plans of the trolley company —particularly if that company secures tremini both on Greenwich St. and Greeley Square. A ferry and train service such as the Lackawanna now has could not effectively compete with express trains running into the heart of Manhattan. On the other hand to build into Manhattan would cost an amount of money which would hardly be warranted by the traffic of the company; and it would be many years before the travel under the river would justify any more tunnels than those already planned. The balancing of the argument indicates, however, that the Railroad Company will in the end be obliged to run its trains under the River and it is probable that some arrangement will be made with the Erie Railroad which will distribute the expense between the two companies.

ACCORDING to the Mayor's account, given at the dinner celebrating the opening of the Subway, the city is already running uncomfortably close to the debt limit. The actual margin at the present time is, indeed, over $100,000,000; but 60 per cent. of this amount is already pledged for the bridges and other new construction now underway, and there remains only about $40,000,000 for such imperative improvements as the extension of the rapid transit system and an additional water supply. No wonder the Mayor and the Comptroller have united to shut down on all but absolutely necessary bond issues for the rest of the year. The margin which remains is entirely inadequate for the purpose of paying both for rapid transit extensions and an enlarged water supply. The new Subway already blocked out will cost as much as $40,000,000 and perhaps more. Of course there is a chance that the bidders for the new Subway contracts may try to make their offers tempting to the city by supplying most of the funds themselves—as in the case of the Brooklyn tunnel; but the city cannot count on obtaining such a release from its probable engagements. The truth is that the increase in the assessed valuations made by the administration of Ex-Mayor Low has merely postponed the difficulties arising from the city's restricted power of borrowing money. The stubborn fact remains as pointed out by Mr. Coler, that the more money the city invests in income bearing assets, the less money it can borrow; and this fact is bound in the long run to put an obstacle in the way of the city's growth, which can only be removed by the modification of constitutional clause respecting the debt limit. The city has embarked on a policy of municipal improvement, which is essential to its growth, and will require constant and considerable use of its credit, and an agitation should be begun immediately looking toward the modification of the constitutional restriction. If the matter is postponed until the necessity is urgent, the delay of several years, which must elapse before the constitution can be amended will mean a corresponding delay in vital municipal improvements.

The Old Rapid Transit and the New.

THE RECORD AND GUIDE has within the past few years pointed out so frequently what the new Subway will do for Manhattan and the Bronx, and the daily newspapers have been so full of the same information during the past week, that we should rather at the present juncture call attention to what the elevated railroads have done for New York than to what the Subway will do for it. The management of the Manhattan Company and the service it offered to the public have during the past fifteen years been subjected to the severe and constant criticism, and no doubt much of this criticism has been deserved. But after all it must be admitted that the Manhattan elevated has been the means of making Manhattan what it is to-day, and that for a period of a quarter of a century it has offered New Yorkers a pleasant, a safe, and a cheap vehicle of transit.

We wonder whether in the year 1930 as much can be said of the Subway. Travel in the Subway will certainly be cheaper, considering the service which it affords; but it will not be as pleasant, and if it is as safe, its operating officials will deserve enormous credit. These last two points deserve a little consideration. The Subway is undoubtedly an example of the highest standard of underground construction. Its ventilation is admirable. Its patrons will not have to put up with the bad air, with the foul gases, and with the other inconveniences, which have been associated in the past with tunnel travel. Yet at its best how much less interesting underground travelling must be than travelling on the surface. On the elevated roads we have had not only good air, but natural light—sunlight when there was any—and we have had passing by us the panorama of certain New York streets and avenues. In the Subway, except at the stations, there will be nothing but artificial light; and its patrons during the course of a journey will have nothing to read but the newspaper and the faces of his fellow-prisoners. They will doubtless be glad that the journey is short. As to safety the record of the Manhattan Company has in that respect been remarkable. No expectation has been more present in the minds of New Yorkers than that some day there would be a terrible accident on the elevated roads. But the years have passed and none but minor accidents have occurred; and it is fair to attribute this immunity in some measure to the efficiency of the operating department of the company.

The Record and Guide has no wish to overestimate the service, which the elevated roads have afforded to New York. There can be no doubt that the system was badly planned in the beginning, in that it provided no sufficient opportunity for more tracks and an increased capacity. In effect the service it offered broke down fifteen years ago; and in the meantime the growth of the city has been very much hampered by the inadequacy of the accommodations for transit it furnished. Furthermore, it is also true that however efficient the operating department has been, the general policy of the Directors of the old Manhattan Company was short-sighted and niggardly. Doubtless they were subjected to much unjust criticism; but the plain fact remains that because the city would not make them a present of everything they wanted they refused to coöperate with the Rapid Transit Commission in improving and enlarging the service offered by the company. In this way the company not only delayed rapid transit for years, but it even procrastinated for a long time about the obvious necessity of electrifying its own lines, and so postponed the day when it could add millions of dollars to its revenue. Finally its Directors had the bad judgment to allow the operating contract for the new Subway to pass into other hands. No! the management of the old Manhattan Company did not show the slightest realization of the lucrative and enormous opportunities offered to it; and when it sold out to the Interborough Company at a price which has proved to be below the value of the business, it merely committed the last short-sighted act of a career which had been in almost every particular short-sighted and narrow. But it nevertheless remains true that somehow the elevated roads have been the means of building up the city from 59th st to the Harlem, and the city has pulled through this trying period of its growth. The express service, inadequate makeshift though it was, has helped, and was the one improvement of any importance, electric traction excepted, initiated by the old management.

One important contrast between the old system of rapid transit and the new is worth more attention than it has received and that is the improvement which is shown in the architecture and decoration of the stations. Anything more insignificant, ugly and inconvenient than the stations on the elevated roads it would be difficult to imagine. The stairways were narrow, the exteriors designed without the slightest idea of making them attractive or appropriate, and the interiors were equally devoid of aesthetic decency. The bad example persists to the present day. The one thing which could be done to improve their appearance at the present time would be to paint them with gay and pleasing colors; but the same old dirty and depressing drabs and faded greens are used, as if the railroad management were totally unaware that livelier colors were coming into common use, particularly for metallic structures. On the other stand the Subway stations are excellent in the architectural propriety of their schemes of decorations. We suspect that the stairways will eventually prove to be too narrow; but there are no faults to find with the appearance of the stations. Something clean, neat and attractive was wanted; and the white tiles with colored borders serve the purpose admirably. The effect of this sort of thing upon popular taste is enormous; and since the example will be initiated thereafter, New York can congratulaate itself on one specimen of "Civic Art," in which a very useful structure has been decorated with the utmost propriety.

Steel Skeleton Construction.

DOES SIXTY WALL STREET REPRESENT AN INFRINGEMENT OF THE BUFFINGTON PATENT?

Much interest has been manifested by men in the building line as well as the general public regarding the suits promised by Mr. L. S. Buffington against the owners of all the steel skeleton buildings. Mr. Buffington is a prominent architect of the West, where he has built the Minnesota University buildings, the West Hotel, the Boston block, the Pillsbury flouring mills, and other buildings of Minneapolis. He built the State Capitol of Minnesota and the State Capitol of North Dakota, and was the architect to the Great Northern and Northern Pacific Railroad; he is an engineer and is reputed to be familiar with all forms of structural steel. Patents were granted to Mr. Buffington by the United States, Great Britain, France, and Germany, May 22, 1888. In these patents is illustrated and described a building twenty-eight stories high, and claims are set forth for the continuous braced skeleton of metal, the tapering post, the laminated column, the non-conducting material protecting the metal, the shelves secured to the framing at each story, the veneer supported by the shelves, the braces, the girts, the beams, the angle-plate, etc. These are the essential features that make it possible to build such structutres as No. 60 Wall street, 111 Broadway, the Wanamaker building and others of like character. At No. 50 Broadway is a bronze tablet which reads as follows:

"This tablet, placed in 1899 by the Society of Architectural Iron Manufacturers of New York, commemorates the erection during 1888-9 in this, the Tower Building, of the earliest example of the skeleton construction, in which the entire weight of walls and floors is borne and transmitted to the foundations by a framework of metallic posts and beams; originated and designed by Bradford Lee Gilbert, architect. Jackson Architectural Iron Works, contractors for steel and ironwork."

The building bearing this tablet was commenced in September, 1888, and completed in October, 1889. It is not of skeleton construction so-called, for the entire front is constructed independently of brick; iron columns are let into and secured to the old party wall for six stories, the height of the wall at that time; and on top of these columns is erected a five-story brick building in the ordinary way. There is no bracing, no shelves supporting veneer.

In Chicago the Tacoma building was built in 1888-9; this building has party walls of solid brick. The Home Insurance building, built in 1884-5, has party walls of solid brick; iron columns are built into the front piers, with brick walls built from the ground up around them; at the base the piers are six feet thick. No shelves supporting veneer; no bracing. The West Hotel, Minneapolis, was built in 1883-4, and the Boston block (Minneapolis) in 1880-1. Both of these buildings have the same construction as the Tower building of New York and the Home Insurance building of Chicago, i. e., iron columns built into the walls and piers for support of walls and floors above. They have no braced skeleton, no veneer on shelves. None of these buildings are of skeleton construction, but they mark the highest stage of development of the art prior to the Buffington patents.

"These suits are instituted for a two-fold purpose," said Mr. W. Clyde Jones, the attorney. "First, to establish, as a matter of history, that Mr. Buffington is the inventor, and second, to secure monetary recognition from those who have in such a great measure benefited by this epoch-marking invention."

The complaint which has been served upon President Clarence Cary, of the Sixty Wall Street corporation, recites that Leroy S. Buffington of Minneapolis was the original, true, lawful, first and sole inventor of a certain new and useful invention (No. 383,170) for iron building construction, which had not been known or used by others in this country, and which had not been patented or described in any printed publication in this or any foreign country; that the defendant, Sixty Wall Street, has made and used a building constructed according to and containing the inventions described in letters patent No. 383,170, in claims Nos. 1 to 8 inclusive, 13 and 14.

The Sixty Wall Street building has a frontage on Wall street and extends through to Pine street. On the Pine street side the building is 26 stories high, and exclusive of cupolas is the highest office building in New York. Clinton & Russell are the architects, and the estimated cost of the structure was $1,250,000.

Mr. Buffington, by his record, is an architect and engineer of standing, and the case seems one that cannot be lightly regarded, even though it comes rather late in the day. A man can claim his own under the law wherever he finds it, and on that principle the owners of Sixty Wall Street have been sued.

The Record and Guide has been at some pains to ascertain the legal facts in the case so far as presented by the plaintiff. No answer has yet been submitted by the Sixty Wall Street Company. Inasmuch as the Government gave this patent to Mr. Buffington, it is to be presumed he was entitled to it, and the question now is, has his rights been invaded by the manner in which this and other buildings has been constructed, and to what extent?

Commissioners' Report on the Park Avenue Assessment.

Edward Lauterbach, Morris Guggenheim and Frank Buckley, Commissioners of Assessments, appointed some months ago by the Supreme Court in the matter of Park Avenue north of 106th street, have after a careful study of the testimony, submitted at the various hearings concluded that the local property owner should not be assessed.

They find, that Park av was opened in 1807, that the Legislature in 1813, declared that the avs and sts of the City of New York should be held in trust by the City for public st purposes forever; that Park av from 106th st north to the Harlem river was dedicated by the owners thereof as a public st under said trust provision and that the City of New York accepted the dedication and assumed the trusts; that in 1853 Park av was widened from Thirty-fourth st to the Harlem River and the expense born by the property owners, as was also the expense for regulating and grading.

After reviewing the various acts allowing the railroad to be built, the Commissioners concluded that the changes made by the railroad company were rendered necessary by an Act of Congress, that the change benefited the trade of the United States and State of New York by increasing facilities of transportation; that said changes benefited the general public of the City of New York and that the net effect of said changes upon the property abutting on Park av and adjacent thereto is not a benefit. That it would be inequitable to assess upon a local area any part of the cost; that such local assessment would impair the trust assumed by the City of New York, and especially the obligation of January 9, 1832, where in it was impliedly stipulated that when the strip of land along said av should be discontinued for railroad purposes, said strip should be thrown open as part of said av without local assessment. That it is equitable and just to assess the payment of the entire assessment bonds upon the entire City, and therefore commissioners do assess upon the said City of New York the payment of same.

—The new buildings of the New York Juvenile Asylum, at Dobb's Ferry, were officially inspected for the first time by the Board of Directors on Wednesday afternoon, Oct. 26th, and brief exercises were held in the auditorium of the school house. S. F. Quick & Sons, the builders, expect to have the buildings ready for occupancy early in 1905. The transfer of the asylum from its present location at 176th st and 10th av to its new home, will be significant of the change, almost revolutionary in character, which marks the methods of treating unfortunate and wayward children. The institution is to be conducted on the homelike lines known as the cottage colony plan. There is a school, fifteen cottages and a power house. The spacious grounds consist of 285 acres. Messrs. York & Sawyer, of 156 Fifth av, are the architects.

Business of the Broker.

FRANCIS E. WARD'S ADDRESS TO THE REAL ESTATE CLASS—TOOLS OF THE TRADE.

Mr. Francis E. Ward, President of the Real Estate Board of Brokers, addressed the real estate class of the Y. M. C. A. last Tuesday night on "The Business of the Broker." A general invitation had been extended to the members of the board, and in consequence many prominent brokers attended. Mr. Henry Harmon Neill, teacher of the class, took up the "tools" of the real estate business, such as the maps, daily and weekly papers touching on real estate matters, and gave a list of books, including the Record and Guide, publications, list of real estate corporations, tenement house and tax list books, etc., which are of great value to all real estate men. He said that the object of the "tools" was merely to furnish primary knowledge of the business, and that brokers found buyers, from acquaintances, from watching sales of other brokers from some inside equipments.

Mr. Ward's address contained many humorous incidents which he used to illustrate some remarks made by him. He said, in part: "The business of the broker is to buy, sell, rent and exchange real estate and to bring together the minds of the principals to an agreement at a price and thereby earn his commission. He is the go-between with the buyer and the seller. There is an important point for a broker to bear in mind, and that is to go at the business in hand and finish it if possible. Make all your facts of the case concise. Property has its price, and if enough money or its equivalent can be secured for it, the owner is generally willing to part with it. Times have changed the old idea of holding on to unimproved property or property encumbered with antiquated buildings and suitable for improvement. A broker should be careful as to his style of approaching certain principals. Different customers must be approached in different ways.

"When times are dull, I think the greatest temptation a broker has to withstand is promotership. A promoter is a man who has no money, to begin with, and is trying to sell something which he does not own to a person who does not want to buy it. There are times when a broker may often be able, by his own ingenuity, to share in additional profits that are made and created by his own careful work. There are many examples of where a broker has created values by his own horse sense. There is no reason why a broker should misrepresent matters, and no reason why he should falsify values.

"I have warned you somewhat against the brokerage business as a business to be undertaken by itself. There are times when the brokerage end of the business is extremely dull, but if you have succeeded in building up your agency business, you can await your opportunity for the former branch. You have my sincere wishes for prosperity and success. May you faithfully earn your commissions, giving satisfaction to your clients, dealing fairly with all men, promoting the prosperity of the grandest city of the world; that is the business of the broker."

MR. DOYLE'S ADDRESS.

Mr. John F. Doyle, former president of the Board of Brokers, gave a short talk on what a broker should be, and along what lines he should work. He said there were four principles that a broker should always bear in mind—honesty, industry, initiative and perseverance. He thought it essential for a broker to know a little law—the law of contracts, the drawing of all legal papers in connection with his business—for a man who knows this will be much more successful than one who has constantly to run to a lawyer on these matters.

On Thursday night the class reviewed the business of the week, and discussed the present remarkable activity which is going on in tthe Bronx, Washington Heights and Dyckman sections. Next Tuesday night Mr. Abraham Stern will talk to the class on "The Relationship between the Broker and His Customer, and the Legal Principles Involved."

Chief Class's Celebration.

William H. Class, chief clerk of the Manhattan Building Bureau, celebrated this week the fortieth anniversary of his appointment in the department. He was made a clerk in 1864 by Superintendent James M. Macgregor, the first head of the department, when George Opdyke was Mayor of Gotham, when the city fire limits did not extend north of 86th st, and when there were but three clerks, all told, in the bureau, which was then at No. 2 4th av, and had been established but two years.

Despite his long service for the city, Chief Class is still the most active and reliable clerk of Superintendent Hopper's big official staff, and a part of his characteristic method of celebrating the anniversary was the doing of a full day's work, and he also got his life insured. The medical examiner of the insurance company reported him as sound as a dollar mentally and physicially. A few days previous he had been the liveliest of the guests at the wedding of his son, which he attended in company with his brother, who is a long service employee of the Astor estates.

Superintendent Hopper and his deputies, John L. Jordan, Bernard J. Gorman, and Private Secretary Frank W. McGurk and all the clerks heartily congratulated the veteran and wished him continued usefulness and a green old age in Father Knickerbocker's service. He smiled upon all through his gold spectacles and declared that he never felt better in his life.

Gossip of the Week.

The total number of sales reported this week for Manhattan and the Bronx exceeds all previous records for the two boroughs, three hundred and twelve being the number reported. Of the total, one hundred and fifty-five were lot deals, seventy-eight deals representing four hundred and twenty-six lots were in Manhattan, and two hundred and fifty of the four hundred and twenty-six lots were on Washington Heights, eighty-one in the section east of Eighth avenue and north of One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, and ninety-eight in other parts of the borough. There were also twenty deals in old buildings in Manhattan. The seventy-seven lots deals in The Bronx represented eight hundred and forty-nine lots. There were seventy-seven tenements sold, but only eighteen dwellings.

—As the contract for the Manhattan Bridge will shortly be let, action will be taken at an early date to provide for the approach at the Manhattan end of Bridge No. 3, in the neighborhood of Canal and Chrystie streets. Comptroller Grout thinks it may be wise to widen Chrystie st, from Canal to Houston, and divert the elevated railroad tracks into it, otherwise the approach in coming to grade would interfere with the elevated tracks at Division st. The Brooklyn approach which is practically the extension of Flatbush av, from Fulton st to the terminal of the new bridge, has been laid out on the map, condemnation authorized, and commissioners therefor appointed. The process of making an approach to the Williamsburgh Bridge on the Manhattan side has been a long one, and only a part of the site has yet been cleared. It is hoped that in this case the work will be done more expeditiously.

Of Interest to the Building Trades.

Mr. Louis Wechsler, the contractor, returned last week, after a three months' tour of Europe, with his wife and family.

John Hauser, architect, formerly of 1961 7th av, has removed to the southwest corner of 125th st and St. Nicholas av, where he has opened a large, well-equipped and well-lighted office, in the 2-sty building recently completed.

The stone front of the Eden Musee, in 23d st, was cleaned last week by a sand blast process, and the building looks like new. A general cleaning up of stone fronts is what the town needs.

A. C. & H. M. Hall, builders, have opened commodious offices on the 2d floor of the new building on the southwest corner of 125th st and St. Nicholas av.

The two piers, Nos 6 and 7, of the Bush Terminal Company, at the foot of 42d st, Brooklyn, which were burned early Friday morning, were the largest in the city, being 1,340 feet long and 140 feet wide. The company informs the Record & Guide that it expects to rebuild at once. The New York office of the company is in the Coffee Exchange Building.

M. L. Weiss, of 613 East 16th st, manufacturer of cornices, skylights and roofing, is well known in the building trades and enjoys a reputation for executing all orders to the satisfaction of his many patrons. He has lately secured the contracts for his class of work on the following projected buildings: Argyle Hotel, 3, 5 and 7 E. 27th st, Wm. H. Birkmire, architect, Thompson-Starret Co., contractors. Carnegie Library, Bedford Branch, Franklin av, Brooklyn, Lord & Hewlitt, architects, Robert J. Mahoney, contractor. Vogel Building, corner Cliff and Ferry sts, W. K. Benedict, architect, J. H. Among contracts under way by John T. Brady & Co., of 4-6 East 42d st, is a building for the McDermott-Bunger Dairy Co., at 91-97 Manhattan st, from plans by Joseph McGuire. It is more than half up, but not yet roofed. All contracts are let. Another is the building, 100x100, on the southeast corner of 125th st and Lenox av, from plans by C. B. Meyers. The foundations are now being laid. The iron work and carpentry are let. Another contract is a 2-sty store on the northeast corner of Broadway and 79th st for Robert Dowling from plans by John Duncan. The foundations are now being laid. Iron work and carpentry are let. Most of the smaller contracts on these jobs are still unlet.

A force of 500 men, in three shifts, is working on the Battery tunnel, which, on the New York side, has advanced 1,300 feet, all in rock, and on the Brooklyn side nearly to the bulkhead line.

The Eureka Fire Hose Co., New York city, desire us to "head off" a canard that is going the rounds of rumor-mongers relative to a change in the agency of the company at Chicago, and to state that Messrs. W. H. Salisbury & Co., who have handled the product of the Eureka Fire Hose Co. for so many years with marked success will continue to be their only representatives at Chicago, and it is furthermore hoped will remain indefinitely in control, thus adding to a long term of service that has been characterized by the highest degree of business tact and integrity.

Tiffany & Co.'s New Lease.

It is announced that Tiffany & Co., acting through Brokers M. & L. Hess, have renewed for a term of twenty-one years their ground lease on the site of their present store at the southwest corner of Union sq and 15th st, a plot 166.10x77.5, owned by the Van Buren estate. The present lease has six years yet to run. As this action might be interpreted as meaning that the store in Union sq is to be continued indefinitely, the Record and tGuide is informed that Tiffany will positively vacate the premises next spring, by which time their business will be in full occupancy of the new building on Fifth av.

Personal.

Palmer & Hornbostel, with offices at No. 63 William st, New York City, were notified on Wednesday, Oct. 26th, by telegram from Pittsburgh, that their designs submitted for the new Carnegie Technical School buildings, to be erected at Pittsburgh, had been accepted from among forty-four competitors. They inform the Record & Guide that further details, as to an outline of the scheme, or description of the buildings, cannot be given to the public at this issue. They were to leave for Pittsburgh Friday night, to complete arrangements for proceedings with the work. The estimated cost of the buildings is $5,000,000.

John Donnelly, of Lexington av and 31st st, has returned from a successful trip to Chicago, in the interest of Warren E. Dennis, for the purpose of selling some real estate on Indiana av, in that city.

CONVEYANCES

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street or avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482—10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—A $20,000—$30,000 indicates the assessed value of the property, the first figures being for the lot only and the second figures representing both lot and building. Letter P before 2d figure indicates that the property is assessed as in course of construction.

October 21, 22, 24, 25, 26, 27.

BOROUGH OF MANHATTAN.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

The first date is the date the mortgage was drawn, the second the date of filing; when both dates are the same, only one is given.

Subscribers will find mortgages in this list with the wrong block number attached. The block number we give is taken from the instrument as filed.

Mortgages against Bronx property will be found altogether at the foot of this list.

JUDGMENTS

In these lists of Judgments the names alphabetically arranged and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (*) means not summoned. (†) signifies that the first name is fictitious, real names being unknown. Judgments entered during the week and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.

The Judgments filed against corporations, etc., will be found at the end of the list.

The Private Branch Exchange System of supplying TELEPHONE SERVICE is particularly adapted to the requirements of LARGE HOTELS and APARTMENT HOUSES

By means of a Private Branch Exchange the general telephone service, local, suburban and long distance, is available in every room and apartment. A complete interior service is also supplied, adding largely to the efficiency, and decreasing the cost of the hotel service proper.

No modern Hotel or Apartment House should lack a

PRIVATE BRANCH TELEPHONE EXCHANGE

Record and Guide Quarterly

The annual number of the Record and Guide Quarterly contains all the legal records for the past year concerning real estate and projected buildings, arranged alphabetically and numerically, with invaluable annotations. These are supplemented by tables of important transactions, with typical prices, covering the past quarter of a century or more, accompanied by expert comments; also by a list of realty corporations created during the past two years, with officers and the enterprises in which they are engaged. The whole makes a volume of reference which no real estate man can afford to be without. It should be on every desk and in every library. Its cost is as nothing compared to its value as a time-saver. This important work can be obtained, with three quarterly numbers, for the comparatively small sum of $20. It is published by the Record and Guide, at Nos. 14 and 16 Vesey St., where interested parties may see it and have its uses explained to them. If you cannot call, drop a postal card to the Publisher, or call him up on telephone 3157 Cortlandt.

CONVEYANCES

Whenever the letters Q. C. and C. a. G. are preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed in which all right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omittin all claims and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing a Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headlines are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Whenever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street, in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date.

JUDGMENTS

In these lists of Judgments the names alphabetically arranged and which are first on each line, are those of the judgment debtor. The letter (D) means judgment for deficiency. (*) means not summoned. (†) signifies that the first name is fictitious, real names being unknown. Judgments entered during the week and satisfied before day of publication, do not appear in this column, but in list of Satisfied Judgments.
The Judgments filed against corporations, etc., will be found at the end of the list.

There is a difference between "certain" and "sure." You may be certain "Taylor Old Style" tin has lasted. You can be sure it will last. You can be neither of these things about any other tin made.

N. & G. TAYLOR COMPANY
ESTABLISHED 1810
Philadelphia

We do not use Bessemer Steel in the manufacture of any of our Brands of Tin Plate, but use only Open Hearth. The Black Plate used in the "Taylor Old Style" Brand is a special quality to insure absolute durability and has a soft, absorbent surface for that purpose.

THE ROOFER

finds M F Ternes the most satisfactory of all roofing tins. The unusual pliancy and ease of working make M F Roofing Tin "most favored" by skillful roofers. It helps the worker and gives permanency to the work.

THE ROOFING

M F Roofing Tin is the most durable roofing made. Extra heavy coated and free from the slightest defect. Made entirely by hand labor. Lasts a lifetime. It is fire-proof and rust-proof. The standard for over 60 years. Warranted to give satisfaction.

TRADE-MARK

For sale by all first-class metal dealers.
Sample, postpaid, on receipt of request.

Vol. LXXIV. November 5, 1904. No. 1912.

WALL STREET is trying to guess at present what effect the election will have upon the prices of securities. On the part of some people there is a disposition to anticipate that the re-election of President Roosevelt, which is very probable, will be the signal for a renewed advance. On the other hand, it is argued with equal gravity that the present level of prices is being maintained until after the election; so that the Republicans will not be embarrassed by a severe slump, coincident with the voting period. For our own part we find it hard to believe that the election will have any decisive effect upon prices, no matter how it goes. There are no serious business issues at stake, as there were at the two previous national elections. The business interests of the country, as well as the special interests of Wall Street, will be as secure in the case of Judge Parker's election as they will be in the case of President Roosevelt's. The Republicans have been trying to create a different impression; but common sense refuses to believe that the executive program and candidate of the Democratic party are inimical to business prosperity, just as it refuses to believe that President Roosevelt's triumph would look in the direction of a lawless dictatorship. But if Wall Street has no reason to fear Judge Parker, it will have no reason to rejoice at the election of the Republican candidate. Contrary to many precedents, the prices of stocks have been steadily advancing throughout the campaign, and they have advanced, on the whole, for sound business reasons. If they continue to advance after the election, it will be because these favorable business conditions have not yet spent their force. Should a decline follow the election, it will be because Wall Street has come to believe that any advantage to securities from the improved business conditions has been sufficiently discounted. Several weeks ago it looked as if such was the case; but, as the weeks go by, the business outlook becomes better rather than worse, and, granted the continuance of easy money, it is entirely possible that the end of the bull movement has not yet come. The business of the country has certainly shown extraordinary vitality in its recovery from 1903. Only a year ago the gloom was at its height, and now the recovery is already far advanced. In view of the continued improvement in the steel trade with all that it implies, he would be a bold man who would declare that it has advanced too far.

A COMPARISON between the sales announced during the past week and those announced during the corresponding week last year indicates how radically the real estate market has changed since then. At the end of the first week of November in 1903 we reported the sale of seventy-one parcels of real estate, of which eight were dwellings and forty-eight flats, situated north of 59th st. These figures indicated that the speculation in Harlem flats, characteristic of last year, was already well under way. As compared to the seventy-one sales last year, the totals for this year are over 315, of which 20 are private dwellings, 55 are flats, situated north of 59th st, and 51 of vacant lots. This classification, however, applies only to the Manhattan sales, which constitute a little more than half of the total. A very large number of small transactions are taking place in the Bronx, indicating a much greater popular, as opposed to professional, interest in real estate in that borough than there is in Manhattan. Bronx is, of course, still a borough in which the modest home-seeker can buy the land he needs and build his frame house for less than $5,000, whereas in Manhattan there are very few desirable dwellings to be bought for five times that sum. The small investor has also many opportunities in the Bronx which he lacks entirely in Manhattan. The total number of lots sold is smaller than last week, amounting to about 1,000, of which 600 are situated in the Bronx and about 350 on Washington Heights. The same parcels of property are being frequently sold two or three times, which shows that many of the operators are taking quick and probably small profits. Outside of vacant lots, the activity is about normal. The whole operating and speculative fraternity is concentrating its attention on vacant lots, which makes the sales of other classes of property small. Nevertheless, the outlook is good in every direction. Absolutely the only cloud upon one of the best real estate and building prospects which New York has ever possessed is the continuation of the lock-out. A number of very large building projects, such as the extension to the Singer Building on Broadway, and the new Brunswick Hotel are held up, because of the uncertainties of the situation, and they will doubtless continue to be held up until some assurance can be given that buildings will not be interrupted by unnecessary strikes. The situation would probably have cleared up already, were it not for the great activity in the cheaper forms of construction. These buildings are erected by builders, who do not belong to the association, and they give work to many carpenters, plasterers and the like, who otherwise would be out of a job. The employers must be completely successful in the end; but, owing to the activity in the Bronx, the power of resistance of the unions in the Building Trades Alliance is more considerable than it was. A very notable increase may be remarked in the number of fireproof apartment-houses which are being built; but these are the only plans for buildings of a higher grade of construction which are coming out at present.

THE experience of the week of Subway operation has proved one defect beyond peradventure. The stations and their approaches have not been made as spacious as they should have been. Doubtless the conditions which prevailed last Sunday were exceptional, but a Subway which is to endure for a century must be built to provide for exceptional as well as normal conditions. While under ordinary circumstances the Subway passengers will have as much room as they need, in cases of an accident or of exceptional pressure the service will break down completely. Reasonable provision should be made for such emergencies. The Subway system will differ essentially from the elevated railroad system. It will not consist of a number of parallel lines, all of them practically independent of each other; it will consist of a carefully articulated system. The longitudinal tunnels will be connected both at terminal points and by a number of cross-town lines, and the consequence will be that under exceptional traffic conditions, a pressure collected, as it were, from the whole city would be brought to bear upon particular points of the system. Another Dewey day, for instance, would put the completed Subway to much severer strain than that to which the elevated roads were subjected in 1899, because passengers would be gathered from east, west, north and south, to be dumped at comparatively few stations. In short, the Subway should have been designed to handle much larger crowds than the existing stations and their approaches can possibly accommodate. It is part of the permanent comprehensive transit system of the city. It will be carrying passengers when the central parts of Manhattan will be a ridge of sky-scrapers, and when, owing to the concentration of business and residences, the traffic will be more dense by a good deal than it is at present. It will be found in the end that both in regard to its express service and in regard to its station accommodations, the Subway has not been made sufficiently elastic.

IT will be interesting to observe what the outcome will be of the lively protests which have been evoked by the advertising placards on the walls of the Subway stations. From every standpoint of aethetic decency, the placards are undoubtedly an outrage. They irretrievably mar the appearance of a very appropriate and admirable piece of interior decoration, which belongs to the city, and which should maintain a standard of propriety in such matters superior to that of a private corporation. On the other hand the Interborough Company presumably has the legal right to sell the space, and under ordinary circumstances would undoubtedly exercise that right without mitigation or remorse. But the Interborough Company occupies a very different position from that of the ordinary railroad corporation. It cannot ignore public opinion as the Metropolitan Street Railway or the Manhattan Company can. It is the tenant of city property. The profit which it derives from the privileges will depend largely upon the extent to which the existing Subway can be developed. It imperatively needs, that is, an extension of the "privileges" which it now enjoys; and it will have difficulty in securing these additional opportunities, in case it ignores the protest of an aroused and sincere public opinion. The actions of the company and the words of its officials have indicated plainly that it desires to win the good opinion of New Yorkers; and it could not have a better opportunity of so doing than by abandoning its right to nail ugly and incongruous signs to the simple and effective tiling of the Subway walls. The people who are very much offended by the spectacle may not be numerous, but they are influential and they are determined, and they will not cease from protesting. The Rapid Transit Commission should recognize this fact, and use its influence to abate the nuisance. The Interborough Co. would soon surrender the right to disfigure the stations, in case it were given to understand that its attitude in the matter would count, when the time came for bidding on the Subway extensions.

Congestion in the Register's Office.

THE Register, owing to the insufficiency of his appropriation, has been obliged to take a very serious step, and one which will embarrass the real estate interests of New York County to a very considerable extent. Not having money enough to pay his folio-writers (the men who copy conveyances and other instruments of record into the libers), he has been obliged to lay off thirty-eight of them; and the consequence will be that instruments offered for record will have to be held for an indefinite period. This will mean the utmost inconvenience to real estate lawyers and owners at a time when real estate is very active, and when the necessity continually occurs of using and re-using the original papers in order to assist further transactions.

The responsibility for this unfortunate condition does not rest with the Register, Mr. John H. J. Ronner. Some months ago he anticipated what would occur, and took steps to prevent it. He sought to obtain the additional money that he needed, but it was found, after a conference with officials of the Finance Department, that no transfer of money could be made from a city fund for a county purpose. Consequently, a resolution was introduced into the Board of Aldermen at the instance of the Register, providing for an issue of special revenue bonds to meet the emergency. This resolution is now in the mayor's hands; but it will not, in all probability, become effective without some delay. Before the money can be made available, a unanimous vote by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment is required, and it is very difficult to secure a full meeting of the Board just at present. Everybody, however, interested in the expeditious transaction of the business of the Register's office should bring his influence to bear upon individual members of the Board, so that a full meeting may be brought about at the earliest opportunity. In case a large number of papers are allowed to accumulate at the office, it would take the ordinary force of folio-writers a long time to transcribe the accumulation, with the result that the delay in returning the papers might continue for a long time. Inasmuch as under Mr. Ronner's efficient management, the average period during which the papers have been kept at the office has been only ten days, any necessary return to the old procrastinating methods will be very embarrassing to everybody connected in a business way with real estate transactions.

The reason, of course, that the appropriation has proved to be insufficient is that a very much larger number of papers have been recorded during 1904 than during any previous year in the history of the city. Up to about Nov. 1st, there were 19,203 conveyances recorded during the current year, against 15,695 during the corresponding period in 1903. The number of mortgages recorded in the same months was 16,681 in 1904 and 12,855 in 1903. The increase in the two classes of papers was 7,444, or over 25 per cent. This is an enormous expansion for one year, particularly in view of the fact that the growth in the number of papers has been steady since 1900. In 1900 the yearly number of the Record & Guide contained 390 pages; in 1901 it increased to 437 pages; in 1902 to 528 pages; in 1903 to 597 pages; and for 1904 it will be over 700 pages. Thus in four years the augmentation has amounted to almost 100 per cent.; and the preparation and printing of this enormous mass of matter has entailed such a considerable increase of expense that it was absolutely necessary for the publishers of the Record & Guide to increase the price at which this publication was sold. It is precisely the same with the weekly issues of the Record & Guide. Each of these issues contain from sixteen to twenty-four pages more than it did during the corresponding week two years ago. All of this matter has to be printed by the Record & Guide, just as it has to be recorded in the Register's office. No better illustration could be given of the unprecedented conditions which confront any man or any organization, whose business it is to deal with tne prodigious mass of legal matter which is deposited for record in the county offices of New York and Brooklyn. It breaks all precedents. It overwhelms all calculations. To transcribe or to print necessarily entails a considerable increase in expense.

The money actually paid to folio-writers in the Register's office from January 1st last up to the first of the current month was $32,960—an increase of more than $8,000 over the amount paid during the corresponding period in 1903; and this sum has proved to be insufficient. It is obvious, consequently, that a still more abundant provision should be made for this item of expense during the coming year. It is as certain as anything can be that the large totals of 1904 will be exceeded in 1905. Two sections of the city, which hitherto have remained comparatively undeveloped, are becoming extremely active, and in the Bronx particularly there is every evidence that the small buyer and trader will become as conspicuous as he is in certain parts of Brooklyn. Considering all the circumstances, it is reasonable to anticipate another increase in 1905 of twenty-five per cent. in the total number of papers recorded. The Board of Estimate should not only give Mr. Ronner the money which he immediately needs, but he should be allowed for the coming year a sum which will pay the expense of transcribing a still larger number of papers. This is not a matter in which any economy is possible. The papers have to be recorded, and the expense of transcribing them increases automatically with the number of papers recorded, just as the expense of publishing them also increases. Furthermore, considering that the folio-writers are paid only five cents per hundred words for their work, and the city receives in fees double that amount, it is merely ordinary business honesty to return to the real estate owner an expeditious service. The receipts of the office in fees (which are turned into the Sinking Fund) will be about $146,000 during 1904, against $119,739.73 during 1903, so that the city is merely paying out of one pocket less money than it puts into another pocket. No effort should be spared to break the existing blockade and to provide absolutely against its repetition.

Tax Budget for 1905.

Increases in appropriations for 1905 made by the Board of Estimate for the various city departments and for the counties contained in the greater city aggregate $3,850,303.95, of which $3,519,650.28 is in the amounts allotted to the city.

The budget was finally adopted at last Monday's meeting of the board, and the totals amount to $110,525,259.04, as compared with $106,674,955.09 last year.

The only decreases shown in the city departments are in the Board of Elections, $36,354, and the Armory Board, $8,250. There is a decrease of $2,368,300.63 in the redemption of the city's debt.

The largest increase to any of the city departments are $1,084,000 to the Board of Education, $108,803.01 to the President of the Borough of Manhattan, $178,900 to the Department of Water Supply, Gas and Electricity, $150,000 to the Department of Health, $378,966 to the Police Department, $245,200 to the Department of Street Cleaning, $297,564.46 for the Fire Department, $115,000 for library purposes, $252,106 for charitable institutions and $229,187.90 for miscellaneous purposes, including the fund for street and park openings.

The total for the Tenement House Department will be $516,433.08; Parks, $2,116,333.95; Health, $1,259,391.48; Police, $12,409,466.26; Street Cleaning, $5,692,912.20; Fire, $6,265,864.74; Armory, $99,557.50; Education, $21,997,017.77; Libraries, $634,393.80.

The Exterior Street Assessment.

A petition of unusual importance will receive consideration from the Board of Estimate on November 11. It is signed by the J. L. Mott Iron Works, Church E. Gates & Co., Bradley & Currier, the Harlem River Lumber and Woodworking Co., August Belmont, V. G. Eaton, Jno. Cromwell, John J. Bell, the Mott Haven Company, Charles L. Adams, and others, and is in regard to the reduction of assessment on Exterior st, in the Bronx. The petitioners are property owners whom it is proposed to assess in connection with the so-called opening and widening of Exterior st, from 135th st to Cheever pl, to serve as bridge approaches for the new Madison av bridge. They fear that they are not to be treated quite fairly in the matter, seeing that of the five approaches to the contemplated new bridge, the entire cost of the two on the Manhattan side, and one of the three on the Bronx side, is to be borne by the city, while as to the two remaining approaches on the Bronx side owing to the original resolution adopted in 1896, it at present appears that the entire cost must be borne by the adjoining property owners.

For a number of years the matters connected with the widening of this street were quiescent, and were only revived within a year. In the meanwhile plans were adopted by the city of New York for the removal of the present bridge across the Harlem river, known as the Madison avenue bridge, extending from the foot of East 138th st to the head of Madison av, and the construction of a new bridge, the present bridge being inadequate. In that connection proceedings have been taken to condemn the lands for approaches for this bridge on the New York side, in which proceedings a resolution has been adopted by the Board of Estimate and Apportionment that the entire cost be borne by the city. The present petitions ask that the City bear the cost of the Exterior st widening also.

Building on Small Lots.

MECHANICALLY POSSIBLE, AND MR. GRAHAM CONTENDS THAT IT IS MORE PROFITABLE.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

Under an article published and illustrated in the Record & Guide of June 11th, 1904, the operation of the New Tenement Law was ably discussed, and buildings erected under the law were compared with the old type. I now wish to call the attention of your readers to further light on the subject relating to improving profitably small and odd-sized lots. It has been the rule up to the present time to make an owner of a 25-foot lot, or one perhaps smaller, feel that he has something unprofitable and unusable on his hands. You can hear the expression every day, "He has only one lot or part of a lot." And if the adjoining owner is discussing the question, he is very apt to say, "If he wishes to improve he must buy my property."

The object of this article is to try and show the error of this widespread impression, that one must have more than a full lot to profitably improve the same, and more especially if the lot is an inside one.

This rule reminds me of the report of a canny Scotchman only accustomed to the rough hills of his native land, who was sent out west with a committee to survey for a railroad on the prairies. He looked the ground over, and when the other members of the committee drew up a favorable report he made a positive objection. When asked for his reason, he replied: "It canna be done. Hoot, man! There's na place to put the tunnels." I will now try to prove we have a place to put profitable tenement houses on small and odd-sized lots under the present Tenement House Law.

Refer to the following plans of upper floors, as shown on sketches annexed. All represent five-story buildings. Plan No. 1 has been prepared to improve the northwest corner of 158th st and Trinity av. The owner has for years been trying to acquire additional adjoining land to enable him to build, as he was repeatedly informed his lot could not be profitably improved. It was too long and narrow. The plan speaks for itself, and shows a layout equal to two corner houses connected with one staircase and hall. Seven rooms and bath, including butler's pantry to each apartment; every room is lighted direct to the st, av, or yard, with no courts. The improvement covers ninety per cent. of lot, according to law.

Plan No. 2 shows a corner and one inside house of nine apartment houses that are being erected at the northwest corner of Jackson av and 156th st, having a frontage of 225 feet on the av by an average of 78 feet deep. The Eastern Union Realty Co. is the owner. Each house in the row is 25 ft. wide by 65 ft. deep. The corner house covers the entire lot on the first story. Parties interested in making building loans have been repeatedly warned by alleged experts that it was a serious mistake to put so many houses on the plot. These are the results; before the buildings are roofed several good offers have been made to purchase the property at very satisfactory prices from the plans. Notice the corner house; every room opens on the street, avenue or yard; the corner will have stores covering the entire first story.

Plan No. 3 is for the southwest corner of Washington av and 165th st, an odd size plot, 71 feet wide, by 96 feet deep. The plan calls for two apartment houses—a corner house 36 feet wide by 86 feet 6 inches deep, with an inside house 35 feet wide by 84 feet deep. There are stores on the first story of both houses, with four families on each upper floor. The improvement figures out a fine income, after estimating the full cost of the plot and the improvement of same.

Plan No. 4 shows a corner house on a short, narrow lot, 24 feet 8 inches wide by 61 feet deep. The structure is 24 feet 8 inches wide by 55 feet deep, with two apartments on each floor, and four rooms and bath to each suite. On the first floor stores cover the entire lot. The scheme shows an excellent investment income over the cost, which is certain to make a quick sale at a fair profit.

The facts herein presented, I think, prove a more profitable investment and advantageous sale for the smaller houses than for houses built larger and more expensively. I contend that a builder will find at least ten customers that will buy a good up-to date 25-foot house to one that will be able to furnish the larger sum of cash required to purchase a 37 ft. 6 in. or 50 foot house.

THOMAS GRAHAM, Architect,
45 West 21st Street.

—The electrical contract of Westinghouse, Church, Kerr & Co., for the Pennsylvania and Long Island Railroad work, calls for an expenditure of $7,500,000. The section of the Long Island City power house now under construction, is about 300 feet in length and 125 feet in width, and three of the power units, including boilers, turbine engines and dynamos, with a normal capacity of about 25,000 horse power will be installed therein. The completed structure will be about double the size of the present section and will have twelve power units with a normal capacity of about 100,000 horse power. Four big steel smokestacks, 28 feet in diameter, and 290 feet high, are completed, the skeleton iron frame and floor beams and stone and brick side walls of the entire section, rising to a height of 125 feet from the pavement, are up and the roof will be on in a few days. The boiler house adjoining the main building on the north is a double decked brick structure.

Rapid Transit Notes.

In connection with the opening of the Subway this week, the annexed copy of an old letter is of interest:

New York, February, 1893, Dear Sir:—The Committee of Twenty-five appointed at the meeting held on January 4, 1893, at the Real Estate Exchange, begs to inclose herewith a copy of the bill introduced in the Legislature to bring about what we consider to be real rapid transit for this city.

Our members are contributing their services and means largely in this matter, and our necessary expenses are quite considerable.

We trust, that you will take pleasure in contributing to our funds, knowing that your interests will be so largely advanced by the achievement of our project. Checks should be drawn to the order of Frank R. Houghton, Treasurer, and sent to 145 Broadway.

Yours very respectfully, Finance Committee; Richard V. Harnett, Chairman, 73 Liberty Street; Frank R. Houghton, Treasurer, 145 Broadway; Benj. F. Romaine, Secretary, 20 Nassau Street.

It is proper at this time to be reminded of the important part that the Real Estate Board of Brokers and its allied interests had in preparing the way for real rapid transit. For years the board had its Rapid Transit Committee, which was insistent in season and out of season for the great end that has at last been secured.

Mr. F. R. Houghton says: "It is very gratifying to know that the result of the work of so many years in trying to obtain real rapid transit is about to be realized. I would like to predict that hereafter there is never likely to be a time when the City of New York is not building an extension of the Subway system, or some other means of rapid transit."

To the Real Estate Board of Brokers rapid transit always meant four tracks, and it is not without some regret that the members have seen a less number put down north of 103d st, when it is the outermost parts of the city that the new facilities are intended especially to benefit. At first it was not definitely agreed where these four tracks should be put, on a viaduct or under the surface, but as the cost of a right of way through miles of houses was seen after awhile to be prohibitory, opinions at length crystalized, after many conferences in which the representatives of the Board of Brokers participated, into the underground plan. Mr. Houghton says that the man who did most to encourage and vitalize the hopes for rapid transit was Mayor Hewitt.

Why the Subway was four-tracked only to 103d street some critics cannot comprehend. The road had been opened but a few days when the congestion at and above that point disclosed the mistake in this respect. However, it never was the intention of the Rapid Transit Commission to hold all its eggs in one basket. Already surveys are being made for an extension of the Subway from 42d st north, through Lexington av to 149th st, in accordance with the recommendations of the Chief Engineer on February 19, 1903. It is also proposed to increase the number of tracks on the Third Avenue Elevated Railroad, and plans are said to be nearly completed for extending the Third Avenue line north to the city boundary.

The chief feature of Subway construction during the past year has been the stations, for which Messrs. Heins & La Farge have been the consulting architects. In plan there are five types. In construction, they consist of an inner and outer shell. The sidewalls and ceilings of the outer shell are built of steel columns and beams with concrete filled between them, and a layer of concrete forms the foundation of the floor. Water-proofing, protected by an outer lining of masonry, envelops the whole structure. This constitutes the constructive work of the stations, as distinguished from the finishing work of the inner shell. The floors are all alike and are constructed of concrete. The base of the wall from top of the floor for a distance of about 2½ feet is constructed of a hard buff-colored Norman brick, forming a durable wainscot and extending around the whole platform. From the top of the Norman brick a four-inch common brick wall is built up to the ceiling. This wall is set back from the face of the Norman brick to allow for a finish of glass or glazed tile. At the top of this glazed tile a cornice of faience or terra cotta is built into the wall, and at intervals of 15 feet, or opposite the platform columns, the cornice line is broken by an ornamental symbol designating the number or name of the station, and at intervals a tablet consisting of a dark background of glazed mosaic carries the name or the number of the station in white mosaic in gold letters or figures. The finished floor and the sidewall are joined with a sanitary cove base.

The following list gives the names of the sub-contractors employed in station work:

Westchester Avenue Improvement Matter.

Certain property owners affected in the proceedings brought by the city of New York to acquire title to Westchester av from the Bronx river to Main st, Twenty-fourth ward, borough of the Bronx, are renewing their appeal for a partial report of the amounts for damages by reason of such proceedings. Some 86 pieces of property were taken in whole or in part, and 33 buildings thereon have been or are being removed entirely or partially, and the work of grading and regulating is in advanced stage. But, in the meantime, some of the owners are without funds, as they declare, to meet the interest charges on mortgages now due or soon to become due upon their property or upon that taken by the City, and the additional rent charge upon it by the City; and are unable to obtain extensions of such mortgages, by reason of the fact that they no longer cross the premises, or have lost title to the greater portion. Not for a considerable time will the commissioners be able to make their complete report, owing to the fact that the benefit maps in the proceeding, covering a large area of properties not yet officially surveyed, cannot for some time be prepared for them by the proper city department.

If the commissioners would make a partial report of their rewards, the owners would be saved from considerable hardship, and the city a large sum in interest charges. The proceedings affect a length of over two miles of Westchester av, through practically all of which distance an old street was in use, which had a width of from 50 to 70 feet, and probably averaged over 60 feet. Fifty per cent. of the cost of the improvement is being borne by the city at large.

Railroad Improvements in the Bronx.

The announcement that the New York, New Haven & Harlem Railroad Company intends to convert its Harlem River Branch from a mere freight line with meagre facilities for passengers into a modern six-track elevated road, and at the same time to eliminate all the existing grade crossings, doing all at its own expense, is a welcome one to the general public. This road now crosses nearly all streets, in its course from the northerly side of Van Cortland Park to the Bronx River, at grade. In order to reach the Harlem River yard from the elevated road, it will be necessary to close a portion of Cypress avenue, in all about 340 feet of the block next to the river bulkhead. Of course it will be necessary for the railroad company to acquire absolute fee to the land. The Board of Estimate will consider the subject next month.

The construction features of the railroad rebuilding will include a large amount of bridge work, masonry and filling. The bridge abutments, it is expected, will be built of concrete. Plans are now in hand, but contracts have not been awarded. C. S. Mellen, New Haven, is president of the railroad company.

Lupton Fireproof Windows.

A fair idea of the high esteem in which the Lupton Fireproof window frames and sashes are held by the architectural and building fraternities can be had by scanning the list of buildings below enumerated, in which they were specified and used. The Wanamaker store, New York City, D. H. Burnham & Co., architects, the Wanamaker store, Philadelphia, D. H. Burnham & Co., architects, the Erie R. R. Ferry house, New York; Peoples Trust Company, Brooklyn, N. Y., Mowbray and Uffinger, architects; the offices of the N. Y. N. H. and H. R. R., New York City; Camden County Court House, Rankin, Kellogg and Crane, architects; Torresdale Filter Plant, Torresdale, Pa., Ballinger and Perret, architects; Allison Memorial Chapel, Philadelphia, Pa., Sterns and Castor, architects; Friends' Asylum, Philadelphia, Pa., Walter Smedley, architect; Curtis Publishing Company building, Philadelphia, and many others.

As the fireproofing of buildings is the main point of discussion among architects and builders of to-day, therefore it would avail members of these two professions to bear in mind the David Lupton's Sons Company when they desire estimates on work of this nature. The factories are located in Philadelphia and are the largest given to the manufacturer of this class of goods. The New York offices are in the St. Paul building, 220 Broadway.

New Arbitration Plan.

AMENDMENTS PROPOSED FOR THE PRESENT BASIS OF AGREEMENT IN BUILDING TRADES.

Out of the present labor troubles in the building trades there is likely to arise a new agreement to take the place of the present General Arbitration Plan, the insufficiency of which has been admitted in the councils of both the employers and operatives. A new plan has been prepared in behalf of the unions, and will be presented for the approval of the employers when opportunity arises. Some attempt was made a few weeks ago to have the Building Trades Employers' Association consider the new plan, with the hope that the negotiations would terminate the present belligerency; but the association was not ready to take up new matters during the unsettled state of affairs.

One of the changes proposed in the plan is for a change in the headquarters of the Arbitration Board, which is now in the rooms of the Employers' Association, and which, the unions believe, should be in a neutral place. Again, the employees find that the representation of employers in the board is some times unfair to the union. For instance, in the General Employers' Association the Master Carpenters' Association, the Interior Decorators and Cabinet Workers' Association, the Manufacturers of Metal-Covered Doors and Windows and the Parquet Flooring Association, have each two representatives in the Board of Arbitration, while their employees have only two, because all the employees are comprehended in the United Brotherhood of Carpenters.

In the proposed new plan of arbitration there are 21 sections; in the existing one there are sixteen, not counting the explanatory clauses. The 1st, 2d and 3d sections of the old agreement are copied in the new. Section 4 is amended so as to provide for the election of alternate arbitrators. Sections 6, 7 and 8 are unchanged. Section 9 is amended to read as follows:

There shall be a General Secretary elected, whose salary shall be paid equally by the Employers' and Employees' Organizations; the headquarters of the General Arbitration Board, shall not be the meeting room, nor the club room, of either the employers or employees, and the expense of same shall be equally borne. Complaints shall first be addressed to the general secretary of the General Arbitration Board, and by him referred to the General Arbitration Board, and it shall be their duty, at once to convene, to decide the point at issue. Failing to do so, the matter shall be referred immediately to a Special Board of Arbitration selected by the parties interested, and in all cases where a complaint has been filed, unless a decision is arrived at within three days from the filing of the said complaint, the particular work complained of shall be suspended until the matter in dispute has been decided.

Section 15 is amended in the new plan to read as follows:

15. The members of the Building Trades Employers' Association agree to employ members of the trades union only, directly or indirectly, when parties to this agreement; and it is understood, however, that the words "directly or indirectly" are to be interpreted to apply to all work directly performed by the employers, or indirectly by sub-letting same, either in shop mill, or building—that the matter of supplying sufficient workmen, shall be left to the Arbitration Board of the individual trade, to be governed by its trade conditions, but that in case of continued failure on the part of the unions to supply sufficient workmen, any member of the building trades employers' association may refer the matter to the General Arbitration Board for settlement: That after the date of signing of this agreement, no union shall become a party to this agreement without the consent of the General Arbitration Board.

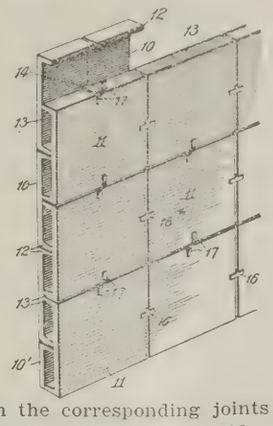
The following are new articles:

17.—All unions, party to this plan, shall have the power to discipline their own members, the action of said union to be final, and same shall not be subject to arbitration or appeal.

18.—No dual organization shall be recognized, and where such exists, an immediate vote of the industry shall be taken, and a majority vote shall decide the name and object of the industry.

19.—On the employment of non-union men 24 hours' notification for the removal of same not being complied with, all union men shall be withdrawn.

20.—It is understood and agreed, that jurisdiction by right legally, and technically, belongs to the main, or basic trades in the building; both in preparing, erecting, and construction work, either in shops, mills or on or in buildings, and no dual organization shall be formed or organized: Organizations of helpers and laborers shall be represented by the mechanics' organizations of the basic trades.



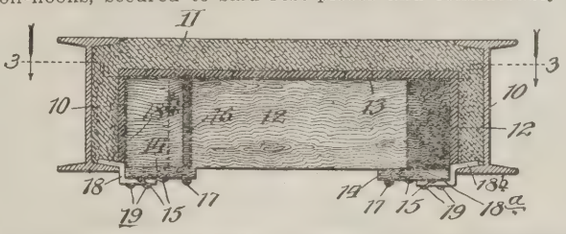
21.—That the number of representatives on the General Arbitration Board, shall be equal for employers and employees, in each building industry, and that only the regularly elected or accredited representativesc shall be entitled to voice or vote.

A new feature of the labor situation is the suit of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America against the Building Trades' Association. Charles M. Beattie, the attorney for the union, says he expects to determine if the largest organized body of mechanics in any trade in the world, who have peacefully abided by all the terms of an agreement can be thrown in one great body from their employment, contrary to the agreement, without redress." President Eidlitz said: "If ordering a lockout means restraint of trade, then what do you call strikes, which are constantly ordered in order to annoy us. The suit will not hold water. We have a perfect right to so conduct our business that we shall not be at the mercy of delegates."

Recent Inventions.

(Specially reported for the Record and Guide by C. Le Roy Parker, solicitor of patents, 709 G st, Washington, D. C.)

Guy V. Waite was granted a patent September 20, 1904, for a Wall Structure. Mr. Waite's papers say: "My invention has reference particularly to a new wall construction of that type or class which employs two series of superposed building-blocks so disposed that the vertical and horizontal joints on one side



"break joints" with the corresponding joints on the other side.

"The object of the invention is to provide a wall of this class capable of economical and rapid construction which shall be securely braced and bonded transversely and which shall be capable of receiving a plaster covering on one or both sides without the necessity of applying thereto lathing or other plaster-anchoring means.

"To this end the invention comprises essentially two series of superposed rectangular blocks arranged side by side with the joints on one side disposed in different transverse planes from the joints on the other side and transversely bonded by tie members passed through the wall at the points where the horizontal and vertical joints on the opposite sides respectively intersect."

Mr. Waite has also just obtained a patent for an extensible centering support. This consists in the combination, with the centering-ribs and laterally-extending rest-pieces secured to the lower edges thereof at their opposite ends, of detachable suspension-hooks, secured to said rest-pieces and considerably narrower than the latter, adapted to engage the lower flange of the permanent I-beam or other supports of the arc, and thus support the ribs from the latter and also in a means for securing the rest-pieces to the ribs in such a manner as to insure against their accidental separation under unusual strain, consisting of a wire or strap in the form of a loop carried over and around the rib and secured to or near the rear end of the rest-piece, thus tying the latter to the rib by a tension member capable of resisting the maximum strains to which the ribs are ever subjected in practice.

Code of Rules for Architects and Carpenters.

A committee of the Employing Carpenters' Association in Cleveland has drafted a code for preparing and interpreting plans, specifications and contracts, and has asked the architects of the city, through their chapter, to take the rules under consideration, to propose such amendments as they may consider wise, and finally to agree upon an official code for the guidance of all concerned, with the object of settling disputed points and avoiding misunderstandings and consequent financial losses. The subject is of interest everywhere, and the outcome of the Cleveland negotiations are being awaited. There is also room for improvement in the relations between contractors and sub-contractors, as such a thing as a code of rules regarding the letting of contracts to sub-bidders is scarcely known.

The rules recommended by the Employing Carpenters' Association of Cleveland deal first with the manner of preparing specifications. It is required that they shall be always typewritten or printed without inter-lining or erasures. All general clauses shall be omitted, and each item shall be specified separately. Items shall be both shown on plans and mentioned in specifications, or explanations given on drawings, defining class of material to be used and party to furnish same. All bills for extra work to be paid once a month. Contractors shall not submit to architects a schedule of their quantities and prices. Market terms for grades of material shall be used. No better grade of material and workmanship shall be specified than the architects shall insist upon.

Under the head of "Drawings" are requirements that working plans shall be complete at such times, and prepared in a certain manner, and, further, these general rules are laid down: Contractors to be provided with plans and specifications to take to their office in the daytime for the making of estimates. Bids shall be accepted or rejected within ten days after being received. Bids on buildings shall be taken on separate trades only, or on groups of trades as specified, but not on both. There shall be an arbitrating clause in all contracts to settle differences arising between architects, owners and contractors. The revised uniform contract shall be insisted upon in the signing of all contracts.

Gossip of the Week.

Dealings in lots are again the leading feature of a very active week. The total transactions for the week foot up three hundred and thirty-six, of these one hundred and eighty-four are in Manhattan and one hundred and fifty-two in the Bronx. Of the Manhattan sales, fifty-four are lots and nearly all of these are on Washington Heights. Of the lots dealt in in Manhattan three hundred and thirty-seven are on the Heights, and only thirty-four for all the rest of the Island. Of the one hundred and fifty-two Bronx deals, sixty-seven were in lots representing six hundred and eight lots.

Franklin S. Bailey has moved his real estate office from Broome st, to 130 East 23d st, and this reminds us that this firm has been in business since 1832, having been successively conducted by Mr. Franklin S. Bailey's grandfather and father.

Kehoe & White were the brokers in the sale of the plot 125x99.11 on the north side of 144th st, 150 east of Broadway and the plot 50x199.10 on 144th st, 275 feet east of Broadway, reported in our last issue.

Davis & Robinson have sold for Dr. Nathan Nutting his property known as "Lyndhurst" consisting of five acres of land at Rye, N. Y. The buyer will erect a new dwelling for his own occupancy.

In a partition sale by order of the Supreme Court, D. Phoenix Ingraham, auctioneer, on Thursday sold for William S. Cogswell, referee, 115 vacant lots between Dutch Kills and Ravenswood, L. I. Most of the property lies within the area bounded by Van Alst and Ely avs.

E. V. Pescia & Co. have leased for James Landau to Antonio Gallo, the 5-sty tenement 231 East 97th st, for a term of five years, at an aggregate rental of $7,500; for Moskowitz & Morrison to Rosina Pergolizzi, the 6-sty tenement 174 W. Houston st, for a term of five years, at an aggregate rental of $19,750.

Nichols & Lummis have sold to Dean Sage for Dr. Augustus S. Knight sixty-four acres of land situated on the main road to Mendham, at Bernardsville, N. J. The property adjoins the land now owned by Mr. Sage and on which his new residence is nearing completion.

The Davis & Bright Co., of 1607 Broadway, have taken up, in connection with their employment bureau, the renting, selling and management of property in behalf of colored people. They have a branch office at White Plains in charge of W. H. Tate, and they have property which they own and other property which they lease, here and elsewhere.

Condemnation proceedings have been commenced by the City to acquire title to a plot of land owned by Timothy Donovan, at West 151st st, and Amsterdam av, which is needed for a park. The assessed value of the parcel is $15,000. All the rest of the land in the block is owned by the City, originally acquired for aqueduct purposes, and is to be laid out as a park.

M. & L. Hess have leased for The Security Mortgage Co. to Morris Bernhard Co., the entire new 6-sty and basement building at 144 to 150 West 18th st, for a term of 10 years, at an aggregate rental of $150,000. The building is just about completed and is built on a plot, 90x92; also for Solomon Tim the entire new building just completed at 1 West 22d st, to M. Philipsborn & Co., for a term of 15 years. The undersigned, the committee appointed at the annual meeting of the Real Estate Board of Brokers, December 8th, 1903, to nominate governors to be voted for at the annual election on Tuesday, November 15th, 1904, report as follows: To take the places of John P. Kirwan, W. Willis Reese and Benjamin Mordecai, present the names of the following gentlemen, three of whom are to be elected to serve for three years: David A. Clarkson, William C. Lester, F. R. Wood, Thomas W. Folsom, Frank D. Ames, George W. Short; in place of Messrs. Francis E. Ward, resigned, and Thomas P. Graham, whose term expires, two of the following to serve for two years: Thomas P. Graham, Irving Ruland, Wright Barclay, Romaine C. Nichols.

At the last meeting of the Bay Ridge Local Board of Improvements a resolution was passed to open 2d av from 29th to 39th sts, and the corresponding cross streets. The South Brooklyn News says this is only a step. Second av, north of 29th st, must be opened and made a thoroughfare. The effort to do so has been made from time to time for the last fifteen or twenty years but did not succeed because of the opposition of the interests above-mentioned and also because at the time there was no imperative need of it. South Brooklyn is a great and is rapidly becoming a greater section of the city. Three thoroughfares will not be sufficient to provide it with adequate arteries of travel and three is all it has, 3d, 4th and 5th avs, for all the avenues, east of 5th are broken by Greenwood Cemetery and Prospect Park. So 2d av will be needed, and sooner or later must be opened all the way.

—At least one of the fireproof buildings in Baltimore was more damaged by the fire than was believed at the time. It was at first thought that a large part of the exterior walls of the Continental Trust Building would not need renewal, but it has been found that portions which were apparently sound had been badly disintegrated by the heat, and it has been necessary to take down all of the interior walls and all the exterior rear walls, together with some of the floor arches and a few beams and girders. The Thompson-Starrett Company of this city is doing the work.

Building Operations.

Five New Flat Buildings for 152d Street.

152D ST, Bronx.—Plans are being prepared in the office of M. J. Garvin, 3073 3d av, for five 5-sty up-to-date flat buildings, 39.6x95, and 40x93, for G. and E. Robitzek, of Rider av, near 137th st, to be erected on the south side of 152d st, between Concord and Wales av, Bronx, at a total cost of $150,000.

Plans of Big Apartment House Soon Ready for Bidders.

7TH AV.—Plans for the 12-sty high-class apartment house, to be erected at the southwest corner of 7th av and 55th st, for the Wyoming Apartment Company, of 137 Broadway, will be ready for bids in about two weeks. Rouse & Sloan, of 396 Broadway, who received the award in competition among many well-known architects, to prepare the plans, state that the building will cost in the neighborhood of $900,000, and not $1,200,000 as reported.

A Cedar Street Improvement..

CEDAR ST.—Plans will be completed and estimates will be receivable in the office of Francis H. Kimball, 71 Broadway, in about two weeks, for extensive improvements to the Continental Insurance Company's building, Nos. 44-48 Cedar st. The structure, which is now 12-stories in height, will be raised to 16 stories in all, which it is said will cost $100,000. No contracts have been issued. The officers of the company are: Henry Evans, president, and E. L. Ballard, secretary.

R. W. Tailer to Build a High Class Apartment.

MADISON AV.—Charles F. Rose, 1 Madison av, will draw plans for a 12-sty apartment house, to be built at 644 and 646 Madison av, for Robert W. Tailer, of 76 William st. The building will be high-class in every respect, costing about $250,000. Mr. Tailer will take entire charge of the work. The plot, adjoining the northwest corner of 59th st, measures 50x100, and is occupied by two 4-sty and basement brownstone dwellings, of the high stoop type.

Plans for New Public School.

MADISON ST.—Plans have been completed by C. B. J. Snyder, 500 Park av, for a public school building, to be situated at the northwest corner of Madison and Jackson sts, for the city of New York, at an estimated cost of $345,000. The building will be 6 stories in height, with gravel roof, and facades of light brick, terra cotta, and Indiana limestone, measuring, 250.11⅝x 102.11⅞ feet in size. There will also be steel frame, wire glass and copper skylights, galvanized iron cornices, fireproof stairways, hot air heat, electric light, hardwood trim, and best plumbing, etc. As soon as the plans are approved at the Building Department, bids will be advertised for. The new structure will occupy the old site of School No. 2, which will be removed. The new building will be known as New School No. 12.

Proposed New Hospital for Coney Island.

CONEY ISLAND.—Charities Commissioner Tully is working on a plan which he will soon submit to the Board of Estimate for the establishment of a new hospital building at Coney Island. It is intended that the new building will take the place of the Emergency Hospital building, which the city has been leasing at the rate of $2,300 a year. The Commissioner is satisfied that when the Board of Estimate and the authorities are shown the need of a permanent hospital at Coney Island, they will not hesitate in taking such action as will be necessary to insure its construction. There are no detail plans as to style, or the accommodations to be provided for as yet, but it is said the Commissioner feels that with an expenditure of $100,000 he can erect a suitable building that will meet the requirements.

Theater Assured for Long Acre Square.

BROADWAY.—Work was resumed recently toward building a theatre on the northwest corner of Broadway and 45th st, plans for which were filed in February, 1903, by Messrs. Koehler & Farnsworth, of 11 Broadway. The site is being cleared, at the instigation of the Board of Health, it is understood, and the excavation is nearing completion. The theater will be a 3 and 4-story structure, of brick, stone and terra cotta, measuring 80.7x148.11, and costing about $200,000. The design will be a combination of the Moorish and Venetian Gothic styles of architecture. The construction will be done entirely by days' work. It is stated that the long delay in beginning was due altogether to labor troubles. The site faces Longacre square, is just north of the new Hotel Astor, is within a stone's reach of a subway station, and in the theater district. The land is owned by the estate of Henry Astor and is leased to Milton L. Bouden, of 158 West 118th st, who in connection with Charles F. Tracey will erect the theater for a company of theatrical men. Various buildings have been planned for this site, and drawings prepared, among them being a 2-sty theater projected in 1901.

It should have stated that estimates were being taken and that that firm were bidding.

A STORY OF WEIGHT

THAT REALLY IS "ANOTHER STORY."

Here are Four Blocks, each a Cubic Foot. The First is of Stone, the others are of "Hecla Fireproofing."

The Natural Material weighs 148 lbs. and, of course, is Not Really Fireproof. The three "Hecla Fireproofing" blocks are only one-third to one-seventh as heavy!!—and are Absolutely Fireproof. And, with Proper Construction, are just as strong or stronger.

This means a Great and Valuable Saving both in Space and in Materials.

Theoretically, a foot can be saved in every Twelve Feet of Height by using "Hecla Fireproofing." A foot a story thus Saved would mean the Gift of Another Story without cost, that is the thirteenth, on a Twelve Story Building constructed on Old Present Methods.

We give this Example not so much for its Practical Value as to illustrate the Wonderful lightness and strength of John D. Day, a well-known New Jersey contractor, aged 55 years, was found dead in a barn in Brooklyn, on the old road leading to Stanhope, on Friday, Oct. 28th. A revolver with which he had blown out his brains lay by his side. Mr. Day built the Prudential Building in Newark, one of the first of the class erected outside of New York and Chicago. He lost heavily a few years ago by the collapse of two large buildings, he had also suffered two strokes of paralysis.

The Tontine Co., W. K. Aston, president, 97 Wall st, who recently purchased the block front on Central Park West from 62d to 63d sts, will divide the plot and erect two high-class apartment houses. Title has not yet passed, and no plans for the proposed improvements have been drawn. The plot fronts 200.10 on the avenue, 225 ft. in 62d st and 200 ft. in 63d st. Mr. Aston has been at the head of several companies who have built the new office structures in the lower Wall st section. They were erected by the Geo. A. Fuller Co. from plans by Jay H. Morgan.

The following is a statement of permits granted by the Brooklyn Division of the Tenement House Department for the Boroughs of Brooklyn, Queens and Richmond, for the week ending Saturday, October 29th: New buildings—Borough of Brooklyn —Brick buildings, 10; frame buildings, 9. Borough of Queens —Brick buildings, 2; frame buildings, 12. Borough of Richmond, 0. Alterations: Borough of Brooklyn, 34; Borough of Queens, 1; Borough of Richmond, 1. Total new buildings and alterations, 69.

The T. J. McLaughlin Construction Co., 1123 Broadway, has under way two 50-ft. 5-sty apartment houses on 146th and 147th sts, 200 ft. west of Amsterdam av. They have almost reached the roof line. Mr. McLaughlin, Sr., has recently bought two lots on the west side of Broadway north of 142d st, but has not decided to build upon them. Mr. McLaughlin says the long series of petty building strikes and the yet imperfect service of the subway tend to delay for at least another year the complete upbuilding of the Washington Heights section. It is sure to come, however, and the speculative builder not dependent on building loans, need have no fear.

A lien case was tried last week before Judge Blanchard. Baron vs. Herter, wherein it appeared that Baron, an electric contractor, had made an extra bill for $1,600 without producing a written order as provided in the contract. When Herter proved that Baron did not do such work, and further he did not complete his work and left out about $2,000 worth of work, Judge Blanchard stated in open court: "I would like to see somebody go to Albany and force a law through, that a contractor cannot recover one cent if he has not completed his work; and further, that he cannot sue or recover one cent for extra work unless he can produce a written contract for such work."

Material Market.

BUILDERS' HARDWARE.

Manufacturers, jobbers and retailers alike report a better business in all lines, which they expect will continue to improve. It is also believed that prices of heavy hardware will be advanced in view of the recent advances in iron.

The increase in building operations both in the East and West within the past month has been phenomenal and gigantic orders are consequently being placed for fitting sundries, window glass, nails, locks and door knobs, window fasteners, faucets and tubs. Keen competition keeps prices in a good state for builders.

The American Hardware Manufacturers' and the National Hardware Association will meet at Atlantic City on November 16, 17 and 18. The first session will be an open one, the special feature being a discussion on the subject: "What are the proper avenues for the distribution of hardware and kindred lines?" It is expected that W. P. Bogardus, president of the National Retail Hardware Dealers' Association, and representatives of the Canadian Wholesale Hardware Association will be present at this session. An executive session of the National Association will be held in the afternoon of the first day and in the evening the delegates will attend a reception tendered by the American Hardware Manufacturers' Association. The two following days will be devoted to a consideration of the business of the association, a review of the past year's work and the adoption of a policy for the ensuing year.

CEMENT BIDS.

Bids were opened at the office of the Panama Canal Commission, in Washington, Oct. 20, for 2,400 barrels of cement, to be delivered on the Isthmus, and were as follows: United Building Material Company, New York, $4,544; Marquette Cement Company, La Salle, Ill., $2.70 per barrel; Fredenburg & Lounsbury, New York, $1.30 per barrel, the Commission to pay freight; Standard Material Company, New York, $2.13 per barrel; Penn-Allen Portland Cement Company, Allentown, Pa., $1.14 per barrel; Illinois Steel Company, Chicago, $2.07 per barrel; A. H. Clark, Baltimore, Md., $1.40 per barrel. Samples of the cement offered by different bidders will be tested and all of the conditions of the bids will be considered before a contract is awarded.

CEMENT SIDEWALK PAVING.

The larger use that has this year been made of concrete for railroad station platforms and walks has been observed by traveling people. New sidewalks of concrete have frequently been noticed in town. The sidewalk pavement in front of St. Raymond's Church, Westchester, which was done with Vulcanite Portland, as was also the granolithic floor of the waiting room in the Pennsylvania station at Jersey City, and the walks, curbs and fountain in Graham Court, Manhattan, is a case in point. Few cements are capable of showing the best results under the trowel. Some are liable to what is known as "grip set," which condition causes the top surface, upon application of the trowel, to revert to the original plastic state. Walks made of these cements will have "tender" surfaces and are apt to crumble and "wear rough." Others, the "fatty cements," are practically impossible to trowel to a smooth finish, a scum or gummy sediment forming upon the surface. Eventually these surfaces will check and disintegrate. In three-fourths of all the sidewalks laid no coloring matter is used. Hence, upon the natural color of the cement as told in the top finish does the pleasing aspect of a cement walk depend. A new pamphlet on cement paving has just been issued by the Vulcanite Portland Cement Company, of which Albert Moyer, is the sales manager, with office in the Flatiron building. It contains suggestions as to the method of constructing cement pavements and a complete set of specifications.

ACTIVITY IN SAND-LIME BRICK PLANTS.

The Peerless Brick Co. is rapidly getting its sand-lime brick factory, at 541 East 118th st, in shape. The contract for the construction of the cylindrical steel tanks for the storing of the sand was given out about September 1, the price being in the neighborhood of $12,000. It gives a storage capacity of about 4,000 tons of sand, and 400 tons of lime. A 16x32 Corliss engine has been purchased from the Nordberg Manufacturing Co., of Milwaukee, and the American Sandstone Brick Machinery Co., of Saginaw, Mich., is supplying the hardening cylinders, press, mixers, etc.

There are in this country at present about fifty plants, with a total capacity of approximately 1,000,000 bricks a day. The experience of these plants indicates that sand-lime brick can usually be manufactured at a cost below that of common clay brick. When, however, a sand-lime brick is desired equal to the fine clay front brick the cost of production is naturally increased beyond that of common clay brick. According to a paper written by Mr. S. V. Peppel and included in the annual report on "The Clay-Working Industries," recently published by the United States Geological Survey, the commercial development of the industry dates back only fifteen years in foreign countries, and not more than four years in the United States. In 1896 Germany had only five factories where sand-lime brick was made, but now it has about 200, with an actual annual output of between 350,000,000 and 400,000,000. Early in 1901 a plant was built in Michigan City, Ind. In 1902 about 20 plants were in existence, and 6,000,000 bricks were actually sold. Full and accurate data are not obtainable as to the actual output in 1903, but about 20,000,000 bricks have been reported as sold in that year. Many of the factories had just started and were not manufacturing to their full capacity during the year.

—The Andrew J. Robinson Co., 123 East 23d st, has a large number of contracts under way. The newest is that for the central portion of the main building for the New York Historical Society on Central Park West, from 76th to 77th st, a gift to the society from Mr. Henry Dexter. York & Sawyer, 156 5th av, are the architects. The list includes the Magdalen Society's building at Inwood, to be built of rock-face native stone, from plans by Bosworth & Bosworth and Green, 142 East 33d st. The only sub-contract thus far given out is that to the Roebling Construction Co., Fuller Building. Another city contract is that for the 7-sty stable in East 42d st, for the American Express Co. The structure, extending through to 43d st, is now enclosed and will provide accommodations for one thousand horses. The architect is Charles W. Romeyn, 55 Broadway. In Baltimore the company has several warehouses in course of construction, the architects being Sperry, York & Sawyer, of the Builders' Exchange, Baltimore, and Stoughton & Stoughton, of 96 Fifth av, this city. In Binghamton, N. Y., the company has a 10-sty office building for the Security Mutual Life Insurance Co. enclosed, the architects being T. L. Lacey & Son, of the Strong Building, Binghamton. In Irvington-on-Hudson, N. Y., they have a $150,000 residence for M. S. Beltzhoover, president of the village, about half up, the architect being A. J. Manning, of 7 East 42d st. On Long Island, at Glen Cove, they have under way a series of barns and stables for the Pratt estate, which will aggregate an expenditure of over $150,000. Wm. B. Tubby & Bro., 82 Fulton st, are the architects. They have also started a $20,000, 4-sty hotel at Glen Cove.

Principal and Broker.

MR. ABRAHAM STERN'S ADDRESS BEFORE THE Y. M. C. A. CLASS IN REAL ESTATE.

"The Legal Problems Involved in the Relationship of Principal and Broker," was the topic on which Mr. Abraham Stern addressed the Real Estate Class of the Y. M. C. A. on last Tuesday evening. Mr. Stern spoke at some length and with great interest on the subject, saying in part:

"In order to properly understand the subject and to simplify it, I shall divide the subject into four sub-divisions, namely: (1) The employment of the broker. (2) What efforts of the broker will entitle him to compensation. (3) How far the principal is bound by the acts of the broker. (4) The rights of the principal."

In speaking of the first Mr. Stern said: "At first sight it would appear that this proposition is a very simple one and about which there ought not to be much dispute. A perusal of the numerous cases reported in the law reports on this subject will readily convince one that the question of employment has been the cause of very fruitful litigation. It may be asked, how does this condition of affairs arise? The answer thereto is that the eagerness of the broker to effect a sale ofttimes makes him lose sight of the first necessary step to be taken to insure his compensation. It is a fundamental and well established rule of law that the employment of a broker in case of a dispute must be proved either by a direct employment or by proof of such circumstances as will imply a contract of employment. It is not enough for a broker t ogo to an owner and tell him that he has a customer willing to purchase his property, get the terms and price and then proceed to effect a sale."

Mr. Stern cited a case in which Judge Woodruff stated the following: "To entitle a broker to receive commissions for effecting a sale of real estate it is indispensable that he was employed by the owner to make the sale. A ratification of his act where original employment is wanting may in some instances be equivalent to an original retainer, but only where there is a plain intent to ratify. An owner cannot be enticed into a liability for commissions against his will. A mere volunteer without authority is not entitled to commissions merely because he has inquired the price which an owner asks for his property, and has then sent a person to him who consents to take it. A broker has no better claim to recover for voluntary service rendered without employment and not received and acted upon by the owner, as rendered in his behalf than any other volunteer. You will, therefore, see the importance of the first step in undertaking negotiations to get an unequivocable promise to pay the commission."

GET DEFINITE PARTICULARS.

Mr. Stern then went on to talk about the Act of 1901, which made it a misdemeanor for the broker to offer the property of an owner unless the authority to do is given in writing. He seemed to think that the law should be repealed. Taking up the second sub-division the speaker said: "Having obtained the written authority, provided for as above stated, it is of the utmost importance, in order to save future trouble and litigation, to get all of the particulars affecting the parcel to be sold definitely and positively stated. These consist of the ownership, dimensions of the parcels, restrictions if any affecting the property and the terms of sale. It is a fundamental principle of real estate law that the broker must be the procuring cause of the sale. That he must bring the minds of the seller and purchaser together, and that through his efforts they have agreed upon all the terms and conditions imposed by the vendor. Having accomplished this, he is entitled to his compensation, even if the sale is not consummated by reason of any act or fault of the principal. While a contract for the sale of real estate to be binding must be in writing, yet an agent who has been authorized to make the sale at a certain price earns his commission when he has procured a purchaser ready and willing to purchase at the terms fixed, with whom the vendor refuses to contract or to whom he refuses to convey upon payment. It is indispensable that the minds of the contracting parties should meet, before the broker is entitled to commission. The broker is never entitled to commission for unsuccessful efforts. The reward comes only with success. If the owner is willing to sell, and requests the broker to bring the purchaser to him and the latter declines to negotiate through the broker, is the owner at liberty to negotiate with the same broker through another broker?" Mr. Stern cited a case in which this question was decided in the affirmative.

RIGHTS OF THE PRINCIPAL.

In speaking of the "Rights of the Principal," Mr. Stern stated that the principal is entitled to the benefit of the knowledge and experience of the broker, and it is his duty to impart any knowledge he has that a particular parcel owned by the principal is desired for a particular purpose. If, for instance, a railroad company needs a large tract of land and the broker knows that the company has or is about to purchase adjoining property, if he expects to be paid for selling his client's property it is his duty to impart that information. An agent is held to the utmost good faith in his dealings with his principal. If he acts adversely to his employer in any part of the transaction, or omits to disclose any interest which would naturally influence his conduct in dealing with the subject of the employment, it is such a fraud upon his principal as forfeits any right to compensation for his services.

"Naturally, following from the principles above laid down is the doctrine that a broker is not entitled to compensation from both principals without their knowledge and consent. This state of affairs arises most frequently in cases of exchange of property between different owners; where one broker represents both parties. If the broker in such a case is invested with the least discretion by either party he cannot accept compensation from both withou the consent and knowledge of both principals. There are, however, a class of men who are distinguished from brokers at least in the law to which this rule of law does not apply. These are known as middlemen, and their duties are clearly distinguished from that of an ordinary broker. A middleman may be defined to be one who is employed by both parties, not for the purpose of affecting a sale or consummating a deal, but solely for the purpose of bringing the parties together or of opening negotiations between prospective buyers and sellers. Having accomplished this purpose his functions are ended and his compensation is earned, the amount thereof is generally fixed by preliminary agreement. It will be observed that there is a marked distinction between the two vocations. In the case of the middleman, he is not invested with any discretion whatever, he is not employed to fix the price or terms or affect the sale. All of these elements are left to the principals to work out themselves. Of course, in such a case the rule preventing compensation from both parties cannot apply, because the principals are dealing directly with each other and no relation of trust or confidence has been established between the middleman and principal and there can be no acts done by the agent detrimental to either party. It is often very difficult to determine where the relationship of broker ends and that of middleman arises, As a middleman sometimes undertakes to go further than he was requested or than he started out to do and takes part in the negotiations it is under these circumstances that uncertainty arises. The whole matter depends upon the character of his employment.

"An option is a privilege which the owners give to a person to purchase the premises at a certain price and on certain terms. If nothing is paid for an option, either in money or other consideration it is void, and under no circumstances is a broker entitled to a commission for procuring an option, unless the same is valid, or is finally consummated by a sale. It often happens that negotiations are apparently ended and no time or opportunity is available to embody the terms in a precise and definite form, and a small deposit is paid to bind the bargain. If under such circumstances all of the terms and conditions are fully determined and settled upon the refusal of the owner to enter into a formal contract cannot deprive the broker of his compensation. But if any of the terms are left in doubt, or to be subject to further consideration the taking of the deposit and giving of an informal receipt avails nothing, as the parties have not yet arrived at that stage of the meeting of the minds of the contracting parties which the law calls for.

In speaking of the question as to whether the broker is entitled to compensation in a case where the vendor has entered into a contract with a purchaser who afterwards turns out to be financially irresponsible, Mr. Stern said: "As a general rule it may be stated, that where the vendor enters into a contract legally binding upon both parties and the broker has been innocent of any misrepresentations of the responsibility of the purchaser, that his commission is earned; no matter how worthless the purchaser may be. That it is the duty of the principal to be on his guard and ascertain the financial standing and ability of the party with whom he is dealing.

"It often happens that after the negotiations have ended satisfactorily to the owner, and the parties are about to enter into a contract that the owner holds up the broker by endeavoring to procure a reduction in the commission and refuses to enter into a contract unless such concession is made. It may be stated as a general rule, that if the broker under such circumstances makes a reduction and it turns out that the contract would have been made without such reduction having been acquiesced in, that such modification of the original contract for commission made with the owner is without any consideration in law and is void and the broker is entitled to his full commission. And this is so not only in case of a reduction in the amount of the compensation, but also in the case of an agreement made under similar circumstances, that the compensation should not be paid until the delivery of the deed, and if it happens that the deed, by reason of any fault of the vendor, is not delivered, the broker, notwithstanding the agreement made by him, is entitled to his compensation. If the owner desires to protect himself against any such contingency, he must in the first instance, and before negotiations are started, make an agreement with the broker that the sale shall be conditioned on the broker waiving commissions in case the deed is not delivered, and even in such case the broker is entitled to his compensation, if the consummation of the contract fails, by reason of a defect in the title of the vendor or other fault on his part."

An employment bureau has been established in connection with the class. The idea originated from the fact that a well-known downtown brokerage concern had applied to Mr. Henry Harmon Neill, teacher of the class, for a young salesman's services. The class will not meet next week, but on Tuesday, November 15th, Mr. John L. Parish, of Parish, Fisher, Mooney & Company, will deliver an address on "The Development of the Real Estate Market."

The Labor Situation.

Occasional flashes from the labor volcano remind us that its fires are not yet extinct. The trouble among the carpenters is as far from settlement as ever, and a similar statement would describe the status of affairs among the stone cutters, if not also in one or two other trades. Conciliation seems impossible, especially between the operative carpenters and their employers, and it would seem to be the duty of some influential third party to tender its good offices. Several firms in the carpnter or allied trades have found the situation intolerable and retired from further conflict. The bond which one of these firms gave to the Building Trades Employers' Association has been declared forfeited, but it is said the decision will have to be confirmed by the courts before it becomes effective.

Besides the carpenter and stone trades, difficulties continue acute in the plastering, tile-laying and metal-lathing trades, so far as the Building Trades Employers' Association is concerned. Much work and some of it of a very important nature is being held up in these lines in Manhattan borough. The tile work in the Subway is a conspicuous example. Some employers manage to get men enough, while others are deficient in help. In the plastering trade the unions of plain plasterers are on strike, but ornamental plastering is going ahead. A large number of plasterers have come in from the surrounding towns and taken the places of strikers. It is said enough men could be quickly obtained from outside if they could be made to believe that the jobs are permanent. In the country bricklaying and plastering are done by the same men, and lots of bricklayers are available.

The abundance of work among the small builders of Manhattan and in Brooklyn and the Bronx has enabled a portion of the mechanics locked out by the Association to find work elsewhere. At the present time only sixteen hundred Brotherhood carpenters are idle in Greater New York out of a total membership of eleven thousand. All these men, whether locked out or not, are being paid weekly a sum sufficient to support them comfortably—almost as much as some of them will ordinarily average during the year, so that they don't care whether they are locked out or not. This comes from the treasury of the national union, which can keep it up indefinitely. Ordinarily the trade counts on at least ten per cent of its men being idle, caused by the shifting process, a certain amount of time being lost between jobs. The officials of the Manhattan Central body state that only fifteen or sixteen hundred men of their union were employed by firms belonging to the Building Trades Employers' Association..

It is announced by the Press Committee of the Employers' Association that George Schaetter, of the Interior Decorators and Cabinetmakers' Association, has been expelled by the Board of Governors, and that his bond of $1,000 had been declared forfeited.

The reason given for this was that Mr. Schaetter had disobeyed the order of the board by employing his locked-out cabinetmakers. The Grievance Committee, which tried Mr. Schaetter, made its report to the board before action was taken.

"If they attempt to collect my bond," said Mr. Schaetter, when he heard the news, "I will at once take the matter to the courts. They cannot collect the bond or put me out of the association."

Mr. Schaetter contends with the officers of the Manhattan District Council of the Brotherhood of Carpenters that (1) the Building Trade Association violated the arbitration agreement by locking out its employees before the matter in dispute had been brought before the general arbitration board and settled; and that, therefore, the association cannot collect on the bond. Second, it is contended that the recent decision of Judge Dickey, that the arbitration agreement is not enforcible in the courts, covers this case. An official intimation has been given that Mr. Schaetter will have the "support" of the Brotherhood if necessary, whatever that may mean. At the same time, it was said at the headquarters of the district council that it was not believed that the Association would carry the case to the courts.

For fourteen weeks Mr. Schaetter's large shop in West 34th st, one of the most important in the trade, was shut down. He had had no trouble with his men, to whom he was much attached by long association, and upon trial he found the men furnished by the new union of cabinetmakers unqualified to do the high class of work required by his customers. Besides, the new union of cabinetworkers contained only 140 men, while over three thousand cabinet workers and machine men belonged to the Brotherhood. Mr. Schaetter said: "I gave the committee the reasons already published for my action. I also told the committee that in my opinion the lockout was unfair because it was in restraint of trade. The association insists that in subletting contracts we must sublet only to members of our association. This I told the committee was against public policy and in restriction of free competition in trade. The constitution of the employers' association provides that it will not seek to control prices. Yet it wanted to force me to pay $3.78 a day to men who are not worth anything like those wages. I am now paying those rates, but to competent men."

Daniel Featherson, secretary of the New York District Council of the Brotherhood of Carpenters, said this week that National President Huber, of the Brotherhood, could not bring about a conference with the employers. Huber has returned to Indianapolis, but he will come here soon, and if a conference is still refused strikes of the Brotherhood will be ordered in all cities where members of the employers' association have contracts.

Partnership Notice.

The partnership lately subsisting between Hans C. Clausen and Anton W. Hoffmeyer, of New York, under the firm name of Clausen & Hoffmeyer, proprietors of the Architectural Iron Works, doing business at 508 and 510 East 74th st, was duly dissolved by mutual consent on Oct. 31, 1904; Mr. Hoffmeyer retiring. All debts owing to said partnership are to be received by Mr. Hans C. Clausen, who will continue the business, and demands on the said partnership are to be presented to him for payment.

Erie Canal Work.

Major Thomas W. Symons, U. S. A., of the advisory board of the New York Canal Commission, states that nine test contracts for the construction of the Barge Canal will first be given out, and soon these will be advertised for estimates. They include lock work, river work in the upper Hudson, work in sand in and east of Oneida Lake, marsh work in the Montezuma marshes, heavy rock work west of Rochester, and work and guard locks on the upper Hudson, and bridge piers. Included in these specifications is the most expensive piece of work in the whole canal, embracing two locks going into the Hudson at Waterford, and a stretch of canal less than nine-tenths of a mile long. The estimated cost of this section is more than a million dollars.

A Better Way.

Clothes can be dried by hanging them out on the roof or in the back yard—but there is a better way: Use a modern clothes dryer which is placed in the cellar or laundry room, and which will dry clothes every day of the year, no matter what the weather. Clothes dried in this way are not blown off the line or whipped by high winds. There are other advantages, all explained in our handsome catalogue "The Rival of the Sun," which will be sent to any address. The Canton Clothes Dryer Mfg. Co., 155 West 23d st.

Questions and Answers.

NO DECISION.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

In your issue of Feb. 27, in answer to a question, you state that when a lease is made for a term of years, with privilege of renewal, and this privilege is taken advantage of by the tenant at the end of the term of years, the real estate broker who first brought the parties together is entitled to commissions for the renewal period. Can you give me any decisions on which this reply was made? I am interested in a similar case and while my offhand opinion is in accordance with yours, I have not found a case on the subject.

Answer.—No decision.

LET IT DROP.

To the Editor of THE RECORD AND GUIDE:

I made a personal agreement with a contractor and builder to build my house within a certain time. I waited eight weeks and wrote to him. He sent no answer. I sent a friend to him last week and he said he would come to see me Sunday or Monday, but I haven't heard or seen anything of him. I have the letter from him wherein he states his prices, and says he would like to be favored with contract. Can he back out now after fooling me nearly three months; we did not sign an agreement.

Answer.—The contract need not be in writing if it is to be fully performed within one year from making the contract, otherwise it must be in writing. (See section 21 of the personal property law, chapter 417 laws of 1897.) It would be difficult, however, to require specific performance of such a contract against a builder who had not yet started work, and if damages were given instead of a judgment for specific performance (which would be most likely), such damages could only be for delay, unless some special damages were proven. It would seem to be more satisfactory to drop the whole matter and make new contract with another builder who "means business."

CONVEYANCES

Whenever the letters Q. C., C. a. G. and B. & S. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows:

1st.—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed wherein all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants and warranty.

2d.—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or encumbered.

3d.—B. & S. is an abbreviation for Bargain and Sale deed, wherein, although the seller makes no expressed covenants, he really grants or conveys the property for a valuable consideration, and thus impliedly claims to be the owner of it. The street or avenue numbers given in these lists are, in all cases, taken from the insurance maps when they are not mentioned in the deeds. The numbers, it will occasionally be found, do not correspond with the existing ones, owing to there having been no official designation made of them by the Department of Public Works.

4th.—The first date is the date the deed was drawn. The second date is the date of filing same. When both dates are the same, only one is given.

5th.—The figures in each conveyance, thus, 2:482—10, denote that the property mentioned is in section 2, block 482, lot 10.

6th.—It should also be noted in section and block numbers that the instrument as filed is strictly followed.

7th.—A $20,000—$30,000 indicates the assessed value of the property, the first figures being for the lot only and the second figures representing both lot and building. Letter P before 2d figure indicates that the property is assessed as in course of construction.
